Quick Answer on Federal Aid For O&W Railroad Promised

Bridge Assigned Route No. 199

8,538 Autos Use Span; Sunday Heaviest---3,404

A total of 8,538 vehicles crossed the new Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge—now assigned route number 199—from 4 p. m. Saturday, when tolls began on the span, until midnight last night, it was reported today by the New York State Bridge Authority.

Heaviest official traffic count was 3,404 on Sunday.

It was estimated that 4,500 cars traveled toll-free after Governor Averell Harriman opened the bridge at noon until 4 p. m. Saturday when the twenty-five cent toll became effective.

The Authority reported 795 vehicles crossed the span after 4 p. m. until midnight Saturday.

Monday's count was 1,268; 1,509 Tuesday and 1,562 yesterday.

The Department of Public Works has announced the route leading across the bridge will be known as Route 199.

In assigning the route number, the department explained that the Route 199 designation, which now stretches from Route 22, south of Millerton, westward across northern Dutchess county to Barrytown, will be extended.

The extension carries the route from the Barrytown area south of Route 9G and over the new bridge to Route 32 in Ulster county, the department reported.

The Governor said at Saturday's informal opening ceremony that the public works department is working with the Authority to provide better connections between Route 209 and the new span.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock reported last week introduction of a bill at Albany which will open the way for construction of a by-pass route connecting routes 209 and 9W and the new bridge.

Major A. H. Marx Challenges Draft Dodger Tag, Invites 60 Recruits

Leader of 156th Says Guard Had 183,600 in Korea Fight

New York Ground, Air Forces Cited; U.S. Defenders Always

Maj. Arthur H. Marx of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion today challenged Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's recent statements that the National Guard provided a refuge for "draft dodgers" during the Korean emergency.

He also replied to Mr. Wilson's demands that the Guard accept an arbitrary six-months basic training period.

Major Marx, a resident of Poughkeepsie, is in command of the battalion during the absence of Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer, who is attending the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. Col Harkin will return to his command in May, it was announced today at the state armory.

Challenges Wilson

Major Marx challenged Secretary Wilson's statements simultaneous with an announcement that a recruiting goal of 60 men has been set for the battalion in the one-day membership drive of the National Guard scheduled Feb. 22.

Major Marx released the follow letter to residents of Ulster and Dutchess counties:

"Within the past few days, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has seen fit to cast doubt on the integrity and courage of the officers and men of the New York National Guard. In addition, Mr. Wilson has issued a decree that will require all future National Guard recruits to take six months' training in the active army as a condition of enlistment.

"As commander of the National Guard units in Ulster and Dutchess counties, I would like to present you with some of the facts of the situation.

Oldest Military Group

"The National Guard is the oldest military organization in the United States. Before there was a United States Army, a Department of Defense, or even a United States, National Guardsmen, then known as Colonial militiamen, fought and died to keep the thirteen colonies free from Indian attack and from domination by foreign empires.

"National Guard units fired the first shots of the Revolutionary War, and with the regular army and, later, the army reserve, formed the nucleus of our victorious armies in every subsequent conflict, including the Korean War..

"For nearly 200 years, when neither state nor federal government would provide adequate funds for training and equipment, the officers and men of the National Guard sacrificed of their own time and funds to make sure that at least some form of reserve military force would be available in time of need.

No Draft Dodgers

"Now, we are asked to believe that this force which has striven so nobly in its country's defense for over three centuries, became, during the Korean War, a refuge for "draft-dodgers," and "undependable."

"What are the facts?

"Eight National Guard divisions and many smaller units were ordered into federal service immediately following the outbreak of the Korean War.

"When it became apparent that the entire National Guard would not be called to active service, the National Guard Association made the first several requests to the Department of Defense that the entire army and Air National Guard be mobilized.

"The purpose behind this request was to provide trained units that could be rotated, as units, into the combat zone to relieve units that had borne the brunt of the fighting.

"The National Guard's request for all of its units to be called into active service was denied. Instead, the Department of Defense chose to rely on replacement by individuals, a system that already had proven disastrous to morale and to unit efficiency during World War 2.

183,600 in Conflict

"Call-up of individual National Guard units continued throughout the Korean emergency. In all, 183,600 National Guardsmen served in the Korean conflict with their Guard units. Thousands more volunteered for active duty and served with units of the army, navy, air force and marine corps.

"A large proportion of the mobilized National Guard units, including two full infantry divisions and scores of similar units, served in combat in Korea.

"A total of 31 separate New York Army National Guard units were called into Federal service during the Korean Emergency. The 101st Signal Battalion of Yonkers, was one of the first units to enter the Korean conflict and was awarded the Meritorious Unit Commendation by Gen. Van Fleet. The 955th Field Artillery Battalion of Brooklyn was credited with destroying 68 enemy guns,

Two Ulster Officials In Action

Would Keep Line From Receivers

The Treasury Department in Washington promises a quick answer to a request that it join a move to help save the bankrupt New York, Ontario and Western Railroad.

A delegation of New York legislators asked the department Wednesday to agree to subordinate temporarily tax and other claims that total nearly nine million dollars.

Among the group were Dr. E. Ogden Bush of Walton, representing the 34th Senatorial District, which includes Ulster, Greene, Delaware and Sullivan counties; and Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock, assemblyman from Ulster county.

Buyer Sought

A move is underway in New York to raise $250,000 to prolong the life of the railroad so a buyer can be sought. The Treasury Department was asked to allow contributions to be used for operating expenses.

The New Yorkers told treasury officials that potential contributors wanted assurances that any funds they gave would not be subjected to federal claims.

A Federal Court has ordered the railroad, bankrupt for 20 years, turned over to receivers Saturday. If the funds are raised, the receivers can operate the line for about 60 days while attempts are made to sell it. Otherwise, the railroad will be liquidated.

The 541-mile line carries freight between Oswego, N. Y., and Weehawken, N. J. A spur runs to Scranton, Pa. Passenger service was discontinued several years ago.

Condition 'Shocking'

Those at yesterday's conference included New York Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz and Undersecretary of the Treasury Fred C. Scribner Jr. The latter termed the road's condition "shocking."

Members of the state's congressional delegation, its state legislature and private citizens joined in the appeal for the Treasury concession during the 60-day extension the New Yorkers seek.

Lefkowitz said no request for a second concession would be made if the first were granted.

William Fitzgerald, Middletown, N. Y., attorney for 37 municiualities with tax claims against the railroad, said creditors other than the federal government would subordinate claims.

$2 Million Local Tax

Fitzgerald said the O&W owed two million dollars in local taxes.

The federal debt includes un-

Measure Would Add 107,000 Acres To Catskill State Park Preserve

Legislation introduced yesterday by Assemblyman Robert W. Pomeroy (R), Dutchess county, would re-define the boundary of the Catskill State Park to take in additional thousands of acres of "true forest preserve type" land, including a large area in Ulster county.

The bill would extend the present bounds of the "blue line" of the Catskill Park from its present location at Boiceville along the Esopus creek from the Ashokan reservoir section down to the New York Thruway at Kingston and then generally along the Thruway to a point near the Ulster-Greene county line.

Pomeroy Bill

The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Pomeroy on behalf of the Joint Legislative Committee on National Resources.

Catskill Park has an area of 581,000 acres, of which 217,000 acres are state owned. The proposed extension would add 107,000 acres, of which about 8,000 acres are state owned. Much of the Catskill Park area lies in Ulster county.

Different Regulations

The Catskill Park is different in regulations from that of "Forest Preserves." In the Catskill Park area, which includes privately owned as well as state lands, there are various regulations such as running of dogs, requirement of permits to burn brush and similar controls for the general protection of the area and wild game in the area.

A number of other bills dealing with conservation and natural resources were also introduced yesterday.

Two would amend the state constitution. One would allow reconstruction of 50 miles of highway through the forest preserve. Another would allow the state to sell from the preserve parcels no larger than 10 acres each if they were outside the boundaries of the Adirondack and Catskill parks.

The proposals by the committee on natural resources are aimed at promoting travel through the parks, and providing money to buy more land inside the so-called "blue line."

Hunters, Farmers

The committee on revision of the conservation law came out with a program to give the sportsman more hunting and fishing and the farmer more protection against trespassers.

The committee chairman, Republican Assemblyman Leo A. Lawrence of Herkimer county, said a big increase in hunting and fishing has "aggravated" land-posting problems.

Under his bill, farmers would get greater protection through safety zones around building areas, and additional law enforcement during peak hunting seasons.

The landowner would open other parts of his land to hunters, Lawrence said, and the Conservation Department would foster improved food and cover conditions for wildlife through establishment of district wildlife management boards.

Bank Cuts Interest to 5 Per Cent

Move in Britain To Affect World

London, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Bank of England today reduced its interest rate for lending money from 5½ to 5 per cent.

The decrease brought the rate down from its highest point since 1932, set last Feb. 16 in a move to stem Britain's rising inflation.

The cut will have worldwide repercussions since the Bank of England is the key financial institution of the sterling area. Other financial institutions usually follow the lead of the nationalized bank.

Money Easier to Get

The bank's action, on order of Chancellor of the Exchequer Peter Thorneycroft, makes money easier to get by reducing the interest which borrowers will have to pay.

The reduction in effect opens bank vaults a bit more for would-be borrowers—from industrialists planning expansion as part of Britain's export drive to lower-income individuals wanting to buy a house.

Financial observers recently had speculated that a rate reduction was coming.

Will Boost Exports

They argued that money should be made easier to stimulate industrial investment needed for the modernization of factories and expansion of national productivity. This is particularly needed to boost exports necessary to counter the unexpected strains put on the British economy by the Suez invasion, closing of the Suez Canal and loss of British markets in the Middle East.

Some boosters for a rate reduction also argued the high interest rate was placing an additional burden on Britain's balance of payments and on the cost of financing the national debt.

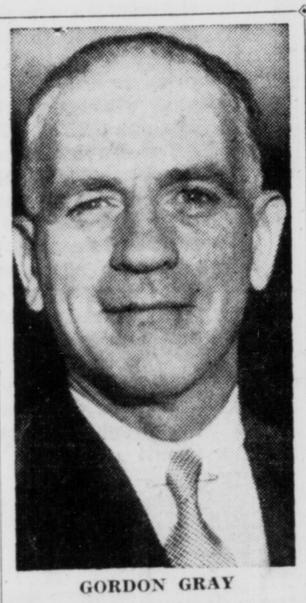

Arguments Weighed

Prime Minister Macmillan's government obviously weighed these arguments against claims that a bank rate reduction might not be well received in foreign countries and that it might make more difficult the job of defending the value of the pound on foreign markets.

After Britain's abortive invasion of the Suez, her dollar and gold reserves fell to a point near the two-billion-dollar mark — considered the danger point by many economists for the safety of the pound. At that time Britain borrowed heavily from the world bank to shore up the pound.

A Bank of England official told newsmen the reduction was a

GORDON GRAY

Hard Work Secret Of Success for New ODM Leader

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—Gordon Gray has been heard to say of himself: "I'm not smarter than anybody else; I'm just more patient."

That quality of patience—together with unremitting hard work—is said by his friends to be one of the secrets of his success in business, education and politics.

At 47, Gray has been a high official in both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, a university president and a leading newspaper publisher in North Carolina.

Succeeds Flemming

Yesterday, President Eisenhower announced he was nominating Gray to succeed retiring Arthur S. Flemming as the nation's defense mobilizer.

Although born to wealth—his family made millions in the tobacco business—Gray is an apostle of hard work. He has been known to average 9 or 10 hours a day at his office and to carry full briefcases home afterward.

He didn't want to go to college—but he led his class at the University of North Carolina. Twenty years later, he became president of his alma mater.

He didn't want to go to law school either—but his father persuaded him to go and he graduated high in his class at the Yale Law School.

In Truman Cabinet

He did want to get in uniform, entered the army as a private in 1942, came out a captain—and was Secretary of the Army under President Truman seven years after he was a private.

Since then he has held other important federal posts.

In 1951 he was appointed di-

President Urged To List Specified Bids on Controls

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—Legislative leaders called on President Eisenhower today to lay down specific proposals if he wants Congress to enact controls against inflation.

Eisenhower's statement that the government may have to move in if business and labor fail to curb price and wage rises found Democrats and Republicans sharply divided over the present need for controls.

Direct Controls Seen

Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark.) of Senate Banking Committee, who has supported the administration's "tight money" policy, said the country might have to go to more direct controls—particularly on consumer credit—if inflationary pressures grow.

"As a practical matter, though," he said, "Congress is not likely to do anything unless the President makes some specific recommendations."

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Financing Committee said that if Eisenhower is worried about inflation, the President could do something about it himself.

Cites Budget Cut

"He could stop this excessive government spending by cutting

Saugerties Vote May Close 1-Room Schools

Nine rural school districts in the town of Saugerties will have the opportunity in the near future to vote on the closing of their one-room school houses, according to Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of Saugerties Central Schools.

At a recent meeting of the board of education a resolution authorized the vote in Saxton, Mt. Marion, Katsbaan, Asbury, Cedar Grove, West Saugerties, West Camp, Glenerie and Blue Mountain.

A petition signed by the majority of the eligible voters in the Blue Mountain district was presented to the recent board meeting, requesting such a vote in their district.

The one-room building in Mt. Marion will no longer be needed when the new 10-room elementary school building, now under construction, is completed.

The board plans to keep the Malden and North Flatbush buildings open indefinitely. Both are substantial brick buildings with four to five rooms each.

In those districts which decide to close their one-room schools, the board of education plans to discontinue use of them as soon as the new Mt. Marion building is completed. This does not mean that all pupils now attending in the one-room schools will be able to attend in the Mt. Marion building, Dr. Morse said.

There will be 10 rooms of elemenary children at Mt. Marion and the remainder will be accommodated in the Main Street School in the village and the Glasco building.

A committee of three members of the board consisting of Mrs. Mary G. Lasher, John Lowther and Ernest E. Schirmer were appointed to arrange a schedule for the voting in these nine districts. The dates will be announced.

The board voted not to consider salary changes for teachers for the coming school year until after it has made a study of finances.

Edward R. Leonard of Aurora, was engaged to replace Mrs. Virginia Hancock who resigned on maternity leave.

Upon the recommendation of Superintendent Morse, the board approved engaging Dr. C. W. Hunnicutt, professor of education at Syracuse University, who recently co-authored a publication entitled "What Does Research Say About Arithmetic?" Dr. Hunnicutt will be one of two leading educators who will address the faculty of the Saugerties Central Schools during an in-service training day next October.

The board authorized the installation of a plaque in the new Mt. Marion building which will bear the names of the members of the board of education.

Mistrial in Hijack Case As Woman Witness Missing

The mysterious disappearance of a government's star witness, Mrs. Marguerite Schaffer, 50, of 3872 Boston Road, Bronx, yesterday caused a mistrial to be declared in Federal Court in New York city where four defendants, including Anthony Joseph Potenza, 30, of Highland, were on trial for theft of interstate shipment.

Four men allegedly were involved in the highjacking of a truck which carried hair tonic. The men apparently believed the truck carried liquor.

Potenza was picked up on December 12 by FBI agents and County Investigator Arthur H. Brown, charged with being one of the men involved. He was held under $5,000 bail at that time by U. S. Commissioner Thomas F. Saccoman for Federal Court. Charles J. Saccoman, Kingston attorney, appeared for Potenza.

Monday the case was moved for trial and a jury was completed Tuesday. Wednesday, when trial was to resume the government's star witness was missing and a mistrial was asked to give time to locate the missing witness. The trial was set for next Monday.

Mrs. Schaffer left her house Tuesday morning at 9:30 a. m. to go to the U. S. Court House in New York but never arrived.

Prosecution had planned to call her Wednesday as a witness against Sam Perrone and Joseph DeVivo, both with police records, and John Angelo Pagano, New York, in the theft of 1,700 cases of hair tonic stolen October 18 from a Manhattan parking lot.

Mrs. Schaffer is vital to the government's case for it was in a basement store of the place she rents at the Boston Road address that FBI agents recovered the loot. She had been expected to point out two men who rented the store from her.

Others Met Death

Her disappearance is the first of key figures in a New York federal trial since July 28, when James Rocerete, 25, and Richard Langone, 33, defendants in a $30,000 hijacking case, were found bludgeoned to death in a car on the lower East side of New York. A co-defendant, Louis Mosto, 26, jumped bail and is still missing. The jury went ahead and convicted Matso.

Her brother, Frank Maffa, said Mrs. Schaffer had knocked on his door about 9:30 Tuesday morning and said she was going to court. Asked if she had seemed worried or had received threats, Maffa said "I can't say." Mrs. Schaffer had formerly managed a taxi service from her home. She recently returned from Florida where she visited a married daughter.

Moved From Lot

The truck was bound from Syracuse to Port of Newark, N. J., and had been parked on a lot near Pier 26, when a man appeared at the parking lot and said he had been requested to move the load with another tractor elsewhere for trans-shipment. The empty trailer was found the next day on Boston Post road, Bronx. The missing tonic was recovered on November 6 in the Schaffer building. There were 43,000 bottles of tonic in the basement. The windows had been camouflaged with whitewash.

Judge John Walsh granted the postponement to next Monday.

Thruway, Power Groups Targets

Bill Would Curb Some Control of State's 33 Authorities

Albany, Feb. 7 (AP)—Members of the state's "little Hoover" commission introduced in the legislature today a 48-bill package aimed at curbing the semi-independent powers of New York's 33 public authorities.

A public hearing on the bills will be held Feb. 28.

Key proposals include a requirement that authorities make payments, in lieu of taxes, to local governments on debt-free, money-making facilities.

The proposals would affect such major agencies as the state Thruway and power authorities.

The commission chairman, Republican Sen. William S. Hults of Port Washington, said the bills were being introduced now "to afford a full opportunity for study." He scheduled the public hearing.

The bills represent recommendations made by the commission's staff after a long study of the structure and functions of the various public authorities in the state.

Hults said the commission itself expressed support for "most" of the staff recommendations at a recent commission meeting.

The staff had proposed that authorities be permitted to have only one salaried member, the chairman, and then only if he served as a full-time executive. However, this recommendation was not included in the legislative program. A staff member said this proposal was intended to be applied to authorities created in the future and not those already in existence.

The Thruway Authority has two members drawing $17,000 a year, plus the $19,500 chairman. The five members of the Power Authority draw $10,000 each.

Among the bills are measures that would:

1. Require authorities to submit annual reports to the state government on their finances, operations and personal administration.

2. Grant the governor power to remove authority members directly "for cause." Since the governor now appoints the members of most authorities, subject to approval of the state Senate, they cannot be removed unless the Senate agrees.

3. Require the state comptroller to audit the books and accounts of each authority at least once every five years unless the authority furnished a satisfactory outside audit.

Public authorities now are exempt from taxation of their facilities. The various authorities have built and are operating more than 1½ billion dollars' worth of facilities, such as tunnels, bridges, parks, office buildings and housing.

The "little Hoover" commission's official name is the Temporary State Commission on Coordination of State Activities.

Death Ruled Homicide

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—The early morning death of a young married woman today was ruled a homicide by Medical Examiner Milton J. Schulz. The body of Mrs. Marilyn Cannon, 19, was found about 3:30 a. m. by her mother, Mrs. Irma Gill, in a hallway outside the apartment they share. Dr. Schulz said Mrs. Cannon met death by strangulation by an unknown person.

CC First Choice Speaker Likely To Come Tuesday

There is a possibility that there will be a change in speakers at the annual banquet of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, Feb. 12.

Word has been received that there is a definite possibility that the speaker originally sought will now be able to come. Definite confirmation is expected today.

The banquet will take place at the Governor Clinton Hotel with dinner starting at 6:30 p. m. Tickets are still available but reservations should be made by noon on Saturday.

In addition to the principal speaker, George J. Silkworth, immediate Past-President, will report briefly on Chamber activities for 1956. The new directors and officers will be presented and the response for them will be made by President Vincent R. Burns. Mayor Frederick H. Stang will also speak briefly. Hugh R. Elwyn, chairman of the Annual Banquet Committee, will preside.

Chairman Elwyn emphasized that the program will be of interest to ladies as well as men and many will attend. Members as well as non-members are cordially invited.

Bill Requests State For $36,000,000 on Newburgh Span

A bill introduced at Albany Tuesday asking the state to advance the New York State Bridge Authority $36,000,000 for construction of the Newburgh-Beacon bridge, indicates that a four-lane span is planned for the area.

The bill was introduced by Assemblyman R. Watson Pomeroy (R.) of Dutchess county. The assemblyman said he drew up the bill after conferring with John Stillman, of Orange county, a member of the bridge authority.

A recent annual report of the authority indicated that a four-lane span for the site would cost $34,700,000. A four-lane span is necessary, it was indicated, because the bridge will become part of a federal route system.

Vote in Ulster County Is 56,537 for Last Election

Enrollment figures just compiled by the Ulster County Board of Elections indicate the total vote in the city and county at the 1956 election was 56,537. This is 4,913 more votes than were cast at the 1952 presidential election and 11,024 more than cast in 1955, an "off year" when there was no presidential election.

The voting figure is based on the enrollment blanks which were given out, every voter appearing being given an enrollment blank even though the enrollment blank was not used by the voter.

In 1956 there were 15,697 enrollment blanks handed to voters who did not elect to fill them out or who by reason of illegal marking voided the blank.

Enrollment figures for 1956 show a total of 31,787 voters enrolled in the Republican party in the city and county. Of this number 25,638 were outside the city of Kingston and 6,149 in the

PLEDGE NOW AND SAVE

Among the pressing problems of a growing community is adequate hospital facilities to aid the afflicted. In the City of Kingston we have had a dual problem, but very happily one of these has been solved. The other is still with us and needs immediate attention.

The Benedictine Hospital was in vital need of funds for the erection of a nurses' home and the people responded in a manner which demonstrated an awareness of the urgency of this problem.

The Kingston Hospital is completing its new wing and could obtain additional federal funds in the sum of $167,000 provided $187,000 is raised here by February 15 through cash, credits, pledges or commitments.

The new Kingston Hospital wing will cost an estimated $501,000. The hospital now has available $147,000 from past pledges and mortgage commitments. The $187,000 goal will bring the total to the required two-thirds of the total cost of the building and equipment. The $167,000 federal grant is contingent upon raising the $187,000.

Taking advantage of this federal grant now will mean a large saving to the community and a great benefit to the people for many years to come.

Here is an opportunity which should not be passed up. A little generosity and determination by the residents of the area will make this drive successful.

HANDIWORK OF GOD

This is a good time of year for considering the profound rhythm and order of the universe. Customarily such thoughts are invoked in the spring or the fall, when the great seasonal changes are most in evidence. Yet though little change is apparent in winter, this is the season when promise and expectation assure us once again that we live in the midst of order rather than chaos.

If one sits in a darkened room at dusk, it is not hard to create the illusion of looking out upon a dead world. The trees stand dark and leafless against the pale sky; there is no movement, no sign of life. What man would say, however, that at such a time the world is really dead? Each man's personal experience, and the long experience of humankind before him, give assurance that life somehow persists in the natural world and will be renewed.

No man would honestly assert that the trees will remain dead and leafless, that the sky will remain dim. On the contrary, each of us would wager anything short of life itself that after a few hours the sky will again brighten with the rays of the sun, and that in a few weeks or months the trees will once again draw upon the mysterious life force and put forth their leaves.

To those who regard the universe as one vast mechanism, all this may seem explicable in terms of that mechanism. But most men see more in it than that. Most men, considering the dead world of winter and feeling a certainty that it will be restored to life in due time, see here the unmistakable handiwork of deity.

FRENCH REDS WANE

The brutal repression of the Hungarian revolt may have seemed good policy to the Kremlin, but it has done the Communist cause great harm in other countries. Not only have the Reds lost control of several Italian factories where formerly the workers regularly voted Communist, but the same disapproval has now been registered in France.

In a by-election for the national parliament, held in a Paris district, the Communist vote was 26.3 per cent of the total in January, 1956. Now it has dropped to 20.6 per cent. The predictiodn may be ventured that the slump will continue.

The Air Force is asking a lot more money for missiles. In the old days, soldiers had to polish brass buttons; now it's pushbuttons they polish. Easy with that polishing rag, boys!

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

POWER IN NEW YORK STATE

Undoubtedly the largest power project in the world is the complex on both sides of the St. Lawrence River and the utilization of the Niagara. On the American side, this enormous task is being administered and operated by the Power Authority or the State of New York of which Robert Moses is chairman. This Authority will shortly require $600,000,000 of new financing for Niagara, bond issues sold to the public, as this is to be a self-supporting enterprise.

A bill has been introduced in the United States Senate by Pennsylvania's freshman Senator, Joseph S. Clark, Jr., granting a licence to the Power Authority of New York for Niagara's development under conditions which are unworkable. Of this bill, Robert Moses said in a telegram to a Buffalo newspaper:

". . . I was never consulted by Senator Clark of Pennsylvania nor were the officers and members of the staff of this Authority. We never heard of Senator Clark's activities in this connection until we learned he was introducing the original Lehman bill without the amendments necessary to make it workable and with a flamboyant publicity release exhibiting incredible ignorance of the Niagara Frontier power problem."

Why a Pennsylvania Senator who has never been associated with either the Niagara or St. Lawrence projects should suddenly emerge as the sponsor of a New York State bill can only be explained on the basis that Governor Averell Harriman, favoring an extremist position regarding public power, turned to the Liberal Party, the Americans for Democratic Action (A.D.A.) and western cooperatives for assistance.

According to Moses, the Clark bill is in conflict with New York State laws and would immediately be attacked in the courts, thus delaying any possibility of private financing.

One of the problems faced is the utilization of power. The Authority maintains that it can develop enough power to sell to the municipal plants, cooperative rural electrification associations within economical transmission distance in New York State and even in Pennsylvania and Ohio while also selling power to existing industries and new industries which can be brought to the Niagara Frontier. The organized building trades support the program of the Power Authority because it will increase work opportunities, but public power advisers to Governor Harriman do not seem interested. I quote from a letter signed by Martin T. Lacey, president of the Central Trades and Labor Council of Greater New York:

". . . Refusal to consider the importance of industry will merely lead to the recession that is inevitable under the philosophy of those opposing the Reynolds and similar contracts. All this ideological hogwash about low-cost power without jobs and industry is economic foolishness."

The power authority, a non-profit organization created by the state, seeks to encourage such enterprises as Reynolds Metals and others to locate in northern New York so that it can sell its power to them. The Authority is operated in a businesslike manner and what it has to sell is cheap power to whoever wants to buy it. It will generate roughly 750,000 kilowatts and it needs customers for that load. The Aluminum Corporation of America has been in that area for half a century, is the largest employer of labor and the biggest taxpayer in St. Lawrence County. The real danger is that the public power fanatics, confusing the issue altogether, could develop a situation, particularly after a rock-slide in June 1956 destroyed an important Schoellkopf privately-owned power plant, whereby the manufacturer would be forced to move elsewhere. Water-power is only more advantageous than coal-power when it is cheaper and the sites are equally suitable.

Despite the fact that New York State is highly industrialized, the northern part of the state is under-developed. The real difficulty with this operation is that the Power Authority faces doctrinaire politics. For instance, the public power advocates believe that increased use of power by domestic consumers is indicative of prosperity. This is only true when those same domestic consumers have jobs and the best way to make jobs is to encourage new industries to come into an area.

What is being done about the St. Lawrence and Niagara is of importance because it could become a model for other parts of the country. The utilization of a Power Authority, publicly created but privately-financed and working on a non-profit basis, has worked successfully in the New York area for many years.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

ANTABUSE

Disulfiram, known as TETD or Antabuse, is a drug designed to keep the alcoholic from drinking. If he does take alcohol while under this treatment, he will have an episode of severe illness, so intense it will act as an excellent deterrent.

The drug itself has very little effect upon the body but with the slightest amount of alcohol, there will be a flushing of the face that extends down over the neck and chest and becomes deeper and deeper until the skin is bright red. There is a sensation of great heat in the area followed by a pounding headache that becomes very severe. The blood pressure rises suddenly with this headache but drops abruptly within a few minutes, giving the patient a sense of faintness and nausea, sometimes followed by violent vomiting. The patient may break out into a cold sweat and often complains of extreme pain in the chest, something like a coronary attack. The discomfort is very severe and may last from one to two or even four hours, depending upon the amount of Antabuse and alcohol taken.

When this drug was first used, it was thought necessary to give it in a hospital. After the patient recovered from his acute intoxication, the drug was given and the patient subjected to the alcohol test. He was given half an ounce of whiskey and allowed to experience the sensation described. In this way he learned what would happen should he drink alcohol while under under disulfiram treatment. For some time now, it has been thought unnecessary to subject the patient to this experience. The mere description of what will happen is sufficient for the average patient to understand the risks involved in drinking alcohol while using this drug.

There are several types of individuals who cannot take Antabuse, such as those with severe heart disease, cirrhosis of the liver, epilepsy, drug addiction, kidney disease, diabetes, pregnancy, and asthma. Although some have taken it while having one of the above conditions, unusual caution must be observed.

Disulfiram has other uses that have proved of value in the treatment of the alcoholic patient. Its original purpose was to get a person off liquor long enough to try to discuss the matter seriously. It also can be used to determine the sincerity of the patient and his willingness to cooperate. If, after the treatment has been explained to him and just how he will feel should he take alcohol while on Antabuse, he swallows the tablet without hesitation, it is a good indication that he really is serious about wanting to get well. If, however, he demurs, refuses, delays or in any other way resists taking the tablet, it is assurance that he still has many reservations about following through with the program. The greatest revelation to the patient on this treatment is that it shows him he can live without drinking. More recently, citrated calcium carbimide has been reported useful as a substitute for disulfiram with perhaps less side effects.

The Boy Who Had His Finger in the Hole in the Dike

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)— There's one big question involved in almost every issue before the United Nations today. This is whether the U. N. must continue to operate under one set of principles for the major powers and an entirely different code for smaller nations.

Future usefulness of the U. N. depends on how effectively it can resolve some of the critical disputes now before it in the light of this big vs. small power relationship.

A few examples illustrate:

The United Nations Security Council votes 10-to-0, urging India to comply with a nine-year-old U. N. resolution favoring a plebiscite in Kashmir. It would decide whether that territory shall become a part of Pakistan or a part of India.

India complies with this resolution by "irrevocably" making Kashmir a part of India and defying the Security Council. There is nothing the U. N. appears able to do about it. India is too big a power on which to impose sanctions—meaning international economic boycotts — or more forceful punitive measures.

ON THE OTHER HAND, the United Nations is adopting a tough line to force Israel to move her troops out of the Gaza strip and positions controlling the Gulf of Aqaba, Israel's southern lifeline.

In this instance, Asian and African nations are urging sanctions against Israel.

To the degree that this is a follow-through by the U. N. in insisting that the aggression against Egypt by British, French and Israeli forces be ended, this action can be justified.

By forcing the British and French to pull out of Egypt, the U. N. regained much lost credit. This was making big nations behave.

To whatever degree Israel was a part of the planned three-power aggression against Egypt, Israel should also be required to withdraw her forces to previous lines.

BUT ALL THROUGH this UN police action, there have been only one-sided attempts to enforce the peace.

This is why the latest action by U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., seeking certain minimum guarantees for Israel, is considered a first step in the right direction to restore balance.

Up to now, there has been no UN action guaranteeing Israel against future aggression from Egypt.

There has been no action to force Syria to repair the sabotaged international pipelines crossing her country from Iraq.

There has been no thought of forcing Egypt to bear the cost of clearing up the Suez Canal.

There has been no thought of demanding that Egypt return the Suez Canal to its previous operators. The old Suez Canal company was operating under a perfectly valid treaty and contract to manage the canal affairs until 1968.

THIS ONE-SIDED administration of international justice is seen as characteristic of many UN past actions.

The world organization started off well by forcing the Russians to withdraw from their Iranian aggression in 1946. That was making a big power behave and protecting a smaller nation.

When the aggression against Korea took place four years later, the UN declared Communist China an aggressor. Economic sanctions were authorized. But no such action was taken against Soviet Russia, which was the real aggressor.

No action at all was taken against Red China for its support of the Viet-minh aggression against Viet Nam.

Partially as a result of these last two failures, it has been impossible for the UN to take any action forcing withdrawal of Russian troops from oppressed Hungary.

It is significant to recall that this big vs. small power controversy caused one of the major debates in 1945, when the UN charter was being written. The smaller nations were afraid that the new world peace organization would be hamstrung by big power defiance.

And that is exactly the way it has worked out.

Limit on Campaign Gifts By Individuals Opposed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 7—There's nothing in the Constitution which says a person cannot spend as much of his own money as he pleases to persuade other persons to vote for a particular candidate for public office.

In these days of solicitude for "civil rights," talk has arisen nevertheless about enacting a new law to limit campaign contributions. It relates to a possible requirement that only limited amounts of money may be placed in a party treasury or in the hands of an organized political committee.

The whole theory behind the Federal Corrupt Practices Act is that organized effort may be regulated only if it is used for some corrupt or illicit purpose. But the courts in the last few years have told the Department of Justice it could not invoke the Federal Corrupt Practices Act to prosecute a labor union in Michigan that was financing a television program on which speakers favorable to its viewpoint appear during an election campaign.

While it is true of course that corporations and unions are by law forbidden to make any campaign contributions, this cannot prevent union members or corporation stockholders from acting as individuals outside the unions or corporations.

Some Regulation "Valid"

Some form of regulation — such as disclosure of funds contributed by any one—can be valid without in any way altering the right of the individual to give as much money as he pleases to the cause in which he believes. But it is one thing to require publicity for campaign contributions and a different and doubtful procedure to try to limit by law the size of the contribution.

The same Constitution which permits a law to say that a foundation may spend tax-free income derived from philanthropic bequests and use millions of dollars a year to influence public opinion on any cause, ranging from socialism and theoretical communism to an espousal of the free-enterprise system, can be invoked by any citizen to safeguard his freedom of speech when he spends money as an individual in a political campaign.

If Congress could say, for example, that no more than $500 or $5,000 may be spent to elect a candidate for public office, it could Constitutionally say also what sums may be expended by the citizen for any purpose related to the selection of a nominee for office. The citizen might then be forbidden to use his automobile to transport persons to the polls, as this would be a "contribution." He might be prohibited from letting his home be used as a meeting place or from serving any refreshments to his guests if they talked about the current campaign.

"Contribution" Defined

The word "contribution" is defined by present law as "anything of value," yet corporate employes and union members continue to draw their regular salaries while spending days at a time at a campaign headquarters or making election speeches. The Supreme Court in 1948, moreover, upheld the right of a union to publish and distribute its own newspaper and insert political messages therein. The court refused to ban this expenditure of funds as illegal. Yet when a corporation publishes a message giving its views on public questions, it is improperly subjected to criticism.

The Bill of Rights of the Constitution protects freedom of speech. Under it, any man has a right to advocate any cause during or before any campaign. Expenditures may be made by the individual for any purpose except to impinge on the rights of other voters or to participate in any kind of fraud or deception.

It is Constitutional to prohibit any one from attempting to bribe or unduly influence a candidate for public office in order to obtain some personal favor or beneficial action by such individual when elected, but it is hard to see how a citizen who spends his money to help elect some one and doesn't ask a thing for himself can be told he can spend only a specified sum.

Broadly speaking, Congress has the right to control Federal elections, though for years there were legal doubts as to whether Federal laws could regulate expenditures in primary contests for Federal office. But certainly there is no Federal right to control the spending of individuals for local purposes—for county or state candidates. How, for instance, can a political committee which is set up to help both state and Federal candidates be required to separate exactly how much it is spending for each when it erects a banner or some other big sign on the highway which says merely "Vote Democratic" or "Vote Republican?"

Congress Report Cited

The subject of limiting campaign contributions has been up again and again for consideration by Congress. Every now and then—as happened last week—there is issued a report by a Congressional committee pointing with criticism to the large amounts of money contributed to political parties by various individuals and families with wealth. All the money, however, contributed by the very rich is small in proportion to the total sum collected.

The inference that the rich get something out of it that nobody else does, or that there is something wrong with large contributions, is derived from past evidence of alleged irregularities. Congress, of course, can still refuse to admit to membership any one for whom an excessive amount was spent or any one who himself has been engaged in wrongful practices to secure an election victory.

To declare, on the other hand, that an individual can be limited in what he contributes when it is spent for a lawful purpose and without any connection with any bribe or improper influence, is to say that the individual can be prevented by law from spending his money for a cause that seems worthy to him. There is nothing in the Constitution which says the citizen can be deprived of such a civil right.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Feb. 6—For subtle reasons, Dave Dubinsky, the president-dictator of the Garment Workers' Union, never is mentioned as a suitable subject for investigation by congressional committees. He and his union, with its incalculable treasury, are exempt.

However, it seems certain that when the new Senate subcommittee really sinks a pick into the corruption which is heaving to the surface in the union rackets, Dubinsky will be called on to tell about his acquaintance with Paul Dorfman, the Chicago insurance operator, beginning at a cocktail shebang at the Houston convention of the AF of L in 1950. An informant who was there has made a statement to Congress declaring that Dubinsky, George Meany, Joe Keenan, Alex Rose and other high-rollers of the cult were present.

Meany is now president of the combined AFL-CIO and is famous for his piety, which has brought him two public clerical salutes since he acceded to his throne. Keenan is a member of the executive council or cabinet of the AFL-CIO and boss of the building trades department. He also served as director of Labor's League for Political Education, which enabled the rackets to spend enormously on politics without violating the law. Rose is boss of the Millinery Workers' Union, a satellite of Dubinsky's empire. He was until its dissolution by Dubinsky's fiat a director of Dubinsky's own political machine, called the Liberal party.

The same informant said that during the annual meeting of the executive council of the AFL in Boston in 1952, Dubinsky bellowed because the United Auto Workers of the AFL had issued a charter to Johnny DioGuardi, alias Dio, of New York, now under indictment on a charge of causing acid to be thrown into the eyes of Victor Riesel, in New York, last April. Dio had been doing business with notorious crooks within Dubinsky's own empire, as Dubinsky should know because a professional investigator employed by him for that purpose officially told him so in writing. Copies of these reports recently were in Dubinsky's own files and may still be available for subpoena. They reveal a state of affairs as bad as that existing in the Teamsters' Union, which somehow, nevertheless, gets all the notoriety while Dubinsky flaps his wings and burbles about ethics. Dave Beck, Jim Hoffa and others of the teamsters' racket are sick and tired of Dubinsky's sanctimony and are practicing trills on the old whistle.

At this Boston meeting of the AFL Executive Council, according to the informant's communication to Congress, Dubinsky blasted Paul Dorfman, of Chicago, who owns an ALF charter for a profitable scavengers' union, because Dorfman helped Dio get the charter from the UAW of the AFL. (There is calculated confusion in these rackets. There are two called the United Auto Workers. The big one belongs to the Reuther brothers and is the backbone of the CIO. The one which gave Dio his hunting license is a little AFL racket, now practically out of business).

Just when Dubinsky was at the top of his howl, Saint George Meany, renowned for his honesty because he started as a plumber, took the floor and asked "Dave, what are you talking about? Didn't I meet you in Dorfman's suite in Houston at a cocktail party?"

Dubinsky ran out of gas and sat down deflated, but later on he blamed his underling, Alex Rose, for taking him to Dorfman's suite. Dorfman later caught up with Rose and they had a conversational brawl on the question whether this was an "impropriety."

In this connection, you have to memorize certain names and connections. Thus, Dorfman has a wife and son who run a big insurance business with unions mostly the stuff called "welfare," and Jim Hoffa, of Detroit, now second to Dave Beck in the Teamsters' Union, has had big business with Dorfman's family through members of his family.

The congressional informant also reported that about June, 1951, Joe Jacobs, a brilliant and spiritual Chicago labor statesman of the Dorfman mob, gave a big loading in the Waldorf Tower in New York and that the guests included the following examplars of ethical rectitude and honor:

Ralph Edwards, then radio evangelist for the AFL, Austin Fisher, a "Public Relations" and "Labor Relations" specialist of the upper financial echelons; and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. All concerned are available for subpoena and, being consecrated to the cause of purity in all public affairs, would be eager witnesses.

For gourmet oysters on the half-shell: serve with nothing but wedges of lemon and lots of minced fresh parsley.

So They Say..

I will not tolerate any more foolishness either in or out of school. If I've got to be responsible for your actions, then I'm going to be your Daddy.
—Kearney, Neb., high school principal Louis Ninegar, warning that any male pupils with an Elvis Presley haircut will be expelled.

* * *

I dare say there never was a time when those qualities of heart and mind which combined to make the greatness of Lee were more needed in the world than they are this day.
—Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss), on Gen. Robert E. Lee's 150th birthday anniversary.

* * *

Paris and its citizens are in real danger of becoming caricatures of themselves. Too many of us are starting to act and even look the way Americans think we are supposed to.
—Paris Municipal Council, deciding that some "Parisian atmosphere" will have to go.

End Play Saves Unsound Raise

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

North pulled his raise out of the bottom of the barrel. It would have been a sound raise with no score. But North and South had a part score of 90 and the raise was a definite slam invitation, although a mild one.

South accepted with a vengeance. He held nineteen high card points, six good trumps, three aces and the king of the fourth suit. That one little peep out of his partner was all he needed to bid six.

Actually he had ideas about seven. Therefore he used the Blackwood convention to check for aces and kings. But when North could only show one king he contended himself with six.

It was well that he did. In fact he needed to develop an end play in order to make the small slam.

The end play was developed as follows: South won the opening heart lead with the ace and exhausted the adverse trumps with two leads of that suit. Three rounds of diamonds followed and he discarded his losing heart. The next step was to trump dummy's heart—whereupon he was ready for the end play.

Opening lead—♥ Q

He entered dummy with a spade, led a club and finessed the ten.

West won with the jack but was now helpless. If he returned a club, South would make his queen; if he returned a red card South would ruff in dummy and discard the queen of clubs.

Good Reputation

Bowling Green, Ky. (AP) — Florida officials asked Bowling Green police to check the background of a young man scheduled to take a bar examination in that state. Det. Harry Ashby looked him up and found his record exemplary. The man was born in Bowling Green in 1931—and moved away at the age of 13 days.

Trapped Truck

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—A sand trap at the Torrey Pines Municipal Golf Course was too much for a truck driver. He walked away and left his truck stuck in it. The Public Works Department estimated damage to the course at $100 and impounded the truck, belonging to a nearby horse farm, as security for payment.

Man, 91, Regains Sight; Totally Blind Since 84

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—John H. Lee, a retired railroader, started losing his sight at 80 and became totally blind at 84.

And now—at 91—he can see again, read newspapers, watch the strange new television, and admire the latest arrivals among his nine great-grandchildren.

A recent operation did the trick.

For years he had been a pet of the nurses at the East Rockaway Nursing Home. He danced with them, hobnobbed with the other guests and their visitors and generally pepped things up.

There was a party at the nursing home yesterday to celebrate his regained sight.

During the party Lee told a visitor:

"If there is any lesson in all this for the rest of the world, I guess it must be that no matter how old you are or how afflicted, you shouldn't give up hope."

To Outline New Minimum Wage Law at Saugerties

The new minimum wage order for the retail trade industry effective February 15 will be explained in detail by a State Labor Department speaker Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 8 p. m. in the Green Room of the Exchange Hotel, Saugerties, it was announced today by Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce.

Arrangements for the special meeting open to all merchants and industrial leaders in the area were made by the Saugerties Chamber, Charles Fous, propect chairman.

Kingston Invited

Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce members and area businessmen have been invited to attend.

According to Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin higher basic minimum hourly rates for all workers will be mandatory on February 15.

The present minimum of 70 cents for Kingston will be raised to $1 an hour for the first 40 hours and $1.50 thereafter. For Saugerties and the rest of the county the 65 cent minimum rate will be raised to 90 cents per hour. All cities and villages over 10,000 population will have the $1.00 rate.

The 90 cent rate is for the first 45 hours and $1.35 thereafter. The order provides that on next January 1 it be increased in those areas to provide a uniform county-wide $1-an-hour minimum with the $1.50 overtime rate after 40 hours.

Other provisions of the new order include sections dealing with minimum call-in pay and an additional rate for spread of hours.

Here's the bomb
THAT BROKE THE
"low-price" lineup!

This big high-stepping Chieftain started a revolution with a carload of "firsts" and an eye-popping price tag!

The low-price field never looked like this before! The handsome husky you see right here has the boat still rocking . . . with more power, more wheelbase, more room—and more sheer pride of ownership—than ever before possible on a well-trained budget! Just look at what they're making room for now in the low-price lineup: a strapping 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 . . . a whopping, road-hugging 122 inches of wheelbase and an all-new suspension system for a Level-Line Ride that's next best thing to a magic carpet! And this streamlined beauty takes on the field with more than six dozen "firsts", all proved by 100,000 of the roughest, toughest test miles a group of facts-minded engineers could devise! If this sounds like a wonderful buy—it certainly is! Our advice is to stop dreaming and price it! At a cost less than a lot of the low-price jobs, this newcomer is making big-time buyers out of former "all-three" owners!

Valentine Beau Bar Features Strawberry Milk Shake

TEEN-AGERS' DELIGHT is this strawberry milk shake. It pairs off nicely with apple-flavored Valentine cupcakes.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

A beau bar for St. Valentine's Day—how does that appeal to you teen-agers? Of course, "simply super" strawberry milk shakes must be featured—with straws, and for double service.

There's a packaged milk-shake mix in strawberry flavor available to simplify and speed up the process. It produces thick cream soda fountain-style beverage.

With the milk shakes, serve individual cupcakes made with a cake mix and iced in tinted frosting, each with its own candy heart garnish.

Strawberry Milk Shake
(Makes 2 tall glasses)

Two cups cold milk, 2 ice cubes (optional), 3 rounded teaspoons sugar, 1 package strawberry milk-shake mix, 2 scoops strawberry ice cream.

Pour milk into a shaker or quart jar with a tight-fitting cover. Add ice cubes, if desired. Add sugar, then milk-shake mix. Shake vigorously for 15 seconds.

Serve at once without ice cubes. Garnish each glass with one scoop of strawberry ice cream.

Valentine Cupcakes
(Makes about 20 cupcakes)

One package instant apple chip cake mix, butter frosting, Valentine candies.

Prepare cake mix according to package directions.

Spoon batter into medium-sized cupcake pans which have been greased on bottoms only; fill only half full.

Bake in moderate over (350 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

Cool cakes; then frost with butter frosting and decorate each with a heart-shaped candy.

Butter Frosting: Measure 4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar. Cream 6 tablespoons butter; add dash of salt and part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition.

Add remaining sugar alternately with about 3 tablespoons milk until of right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth.

Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and blend. If desired, tint with food coloring.

Note: For smaller quantity, half of cake mix may be used with half of frosting.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato juice, fried fish fillets, tartar sauce, whipped potatoes, green beans with chopped almonds, crisp bread or rolls, butter or margarine, celery, sliced pineapple, Valentine cupcakes, coffee, tea, milk.

How to Prepare Returns

Your Income Tax Primer

Here's the first of 12 chapters in NEA's 16th annual Income Tax Primer, the authoritative guide that has helped millions of newspaper readers over their personal tax hurdles every year. The author is Richard A. Mullens, who has conducted the NEA Primer since 1949 as a step-by-step aid to the average taxpayer. Clip and save all 12 chapters! (Sorry; individual questions from readers cannot be answered.)

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Written for NEA Service

Filing a tax return is something like baking a cake. The finished product depends upon the material and skill that goes into it, but the better material you use the less skill is required.

That's why scientifically blended cake mixes have become so popular—and that's why so many taxpayers in the past have used NEA'S annual Income Tax Primer to help them file a correct tax return at the least cost.

This year's Tax Primer will appear exclusively in The Kingston Daily Freeman. Its 12 chapters are designed to help the taxpayer who wants to fill out his own return but who wants more explanations, tips, and step-by-step instructions than is provided in the official instruction booklet issued with the blank tax returns.

If you save each of these articles as they appear, you will find it much easier to get over the five steps in filling out a tax return. Remember, the return must be filed on or before the deadline of April 15

It is always advisable to fill out the return well before the deadline. Then if you have a refund coming, you can file early and stand a better chance of getting your money back quickly. Or if it turns out that you owe more tax, you have time to arrange for payment before the deadline of April 15.

Every citizen regardless of where he is living and everyone else residing in the United States must file a tax return if his answer to one or more of the following questions is "Yes":

1. If you were 65 or over on Dec. 31, 1956, did you have income of $1,200 or more? Yes—— No——

2. If you were under 65 on Dec. 31, 1956, did you have income of $600 or more? Yes—— No——

3. If you were a self-employed person subject to social security tax, did you have net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more? Yes—— No——

In determining whether your income exceeded the amounts shown in 1 and 2 above, you cannot first substract non-business deductions such as charitable contributions and taxes or interest on your home. For example, a student who earned $650 would have to file a return even though he contributed $60 of this amount to some charity.

Many students and others who work part time during the year do not earn enough to require filing a return. If such persons had any income tax withheld from their salary, they should file a return even though they are not required to. Such persons owe no tax and are entitled to a refund of any that was withheld, but it will not be repaid unless a return is filed.

Operation May Erase Threat of Coronary Deaths

New Orleans, Feb. 7 (AP) — America's surgeons have received word of a "fantastically, simple" half-hour operation, first developed in Italy, that may help erase the threat of death from coronary thrombosis.

"The results have been so impressive, they are hard to believe," Dr. Robert P. Glover, a Philadelphia surgeon, yesterday told a sectional meeting of the American College of Surgeons. He described coronary thrombosis as the world's No. 1 heart disease killer.

Two-year Test

Scientists will have to wait at least two more years before finally evaluating the surgical technique. Glover has been using it for three months.

"This is extremely experimental and may fall flat on its face," he said, but added that 12 of 13 patients treated with the operation have shown major improvement.

After the heart attack known as coronary thrombosis, the main artery to the heart is blocked. Not enough blood goes to the heart, resulting in extreme pain and, sometimes, death.

Diverts Blood

Glover said he has diverted blood from another part of the body into the heart. This blood comes from the internal mammary arteries that drain blood down the chest wall.

Glover has cut these arteries between the second and third rib. The blood, now stopped from dropping down the chest wall, rushes to the heart instead.

"Think of the heart as a tree," said Glover. "After coronary thrombosis, the trunk can't be used. So the blood by this technique moves in through the branches."

The surgeon, who directs the Cardiovascular Research Laboratory at Presbyterian Hospital in Philadelphia, said the operation was "so innocuous there can be hardly a mortality on the operating table."

He said it could be performed just one day after a heart attack, using local anesthesia.

Temple, Okla. (AP)—Bill Bentley, filling station operator here, got a call to bring a can of gasoline to a customer who ran out some miles from town. Bill filled up a can of gasoline and started off to find the stranded motorist. On the way, his car ran out of gas.

Future Israeli Plans Are Sought By Hammarskjold

United Nations, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Israel's conditions for pulling out of Egypt and the Gaza Strip brought a counter request from UN Secetary General Dag Hammarskjold that the Israelis spell out their own intentions.

Hammarskjold disclosed last night that he had asked Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban to find out from his government:

1. If Israel will allow the UN Emergency Force (UNEF) to post troops on its side of the Egyptian-Israeli armistice line.

2. Whether Israel recognizes that the general assembly resolutions passed last weekend call for the Israelis to withdraw their administrative units as well as their troops behind that line. Israel has such units in the Gaza Strip and has proposed continuing her administration of that disputed area even if her troops pull out.

The Israeli delegation announced earlier it had submitted to the secretary general several conditions for withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egypt's Gulf of Aqaba coast and the Gaza Strip.

W. Hurley Woman Found Dead in Home Wednesday

Miss Catherine Pieret, 74, of West Hurley was found dead in bed at her home Wednesday afternoon after neighbors had reported to the sheriff's office that she had not been seen since last Thursday.

Under Sheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg and County Investigator Arthur H. Brown entered the home and found Miss Pieret in bed. She had apparently been dead some time. She had called at the postoffice last Thursday, Mrs. Lulu Joyce reported, but had not called for her paper or mail since.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle was notified and after an investigation pronounced death due to natural causes. She had suffered from a heart condition. Born in the town of Hurley October 18, 1882, daughter of the late Thomas and Mary Pieret, she had resided alone in West Hurley for many years. Coroner McCardle said she had apparently been dead several days. It was reported she had a cousin in Brooklyn but efforts to locate relatives failed. The body was taken in charge by the Lasher Funeral Home, Woodstock, and services will be held Friday at 10 a. m. at St. John's Church, Stony Hollow, where a Mass of requiem will be offered by the Rev. John J. O'Reilly. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Was Office Salesman

Mr. Stall first became associated with the local utility on Jan. 2, 1918 as an office salesman with the Kingston Gas and Electric Co., a predecessor of the Central Hudson system.

He has served as assistant to the district and division commercial managers and as public contact supervisor. In March, 1929 he was promoted to chief clerk and has been serving as commercial personnel training supervisor since June, 1951.

Mr. Dougherty is a member of the Central Hudson employes' Quarter Century Club.

Convicts Yield, Ruled Utah State Prison 12 Hours

Point of the Mountain, Utah, Feb. 7 (AP) — Rioting convicts knuckled under early today after ruling Utah State Prison in nearly 12 hours of uncontrolled revolt that was a strange mixture of violent destruction and almost tender concern for hostages.

Some prisoners went on a wild alcohol-and-power binge; others sat around nonchalantly watching television and looking out for the captives they had seized.

Hostages Freed

They yielded to Gov. George D. Clyde's firm insistence that he would not even consider their demands until they turned loose their hostages and gave up their weapons.

The wild party ended at 5:55 a. m. (MST). The last 18 of the hostages filed out of the convict-controlled section of the modern prison some 20 miles south of Salt Lake City. With them came convict spokesmen who surrendered their arms.

Gov. Clyde said he would now consider the 43 "suggestions" of the prisoners. But first he left the prison and went home to rest after the night-long tension of facing them down.

The State Board of Corrections, governing body of the prison, was called to meet at the prison during the afternoon.

One Guard Stabbed

One guard was stabbed and one prisoner beaten during the melee. The prisoner was reported in satisfactory condition and the guard in fair condition.

Prison officials said during early stages of the rioting they could see what appeared to be a body hanging in one of the cell blocks but there was no later confirmation.

The prisoners began retreating to their cells, and authorities went through to make a preliminary survey of damage. State Highway Patrol Supt. Lyle Hyatt said he was preparing a cell-by-cell shakedown.

The riot of about 500 prisoners started about 6:30 p. m. (MST) during yesterday's evening dinner hour, apparently in an argument between a convict and a guard. It spread quickly through the convict section of the prison. Authorities sealed off the administrative section.

The convicts grabbed 27 hostages, including 13 members of a church basketball team which was playing a prison team and four teachers who came from the outside to give lessons. Nine were released at intervals during the night as the convicts dickered before finally giving up and releasing the remaining 18.

On Hunger Strike

Woman Protests Dictatorship of Egyptian Regime

Cairo, Feb. 7 (AP)—Doria Shafik, leader of the Egyptian feminist movement, was reported today to have embarked on a "hunger strike to the death" for the "freedom of my country."

In a statement to the press, she said she demanded, among other things, an "end to the dictatorial regime in Egypt which will eventually lead my country to bankruptcy and anarchy."

Wants Israelis Out

It added that as "an Arab and an Egyptian" she also wants immediate withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egyptian territory.

The exact whereabouts of Dr. Shafik, wife of a prominent Egyptian lawyer and mother of two young girls, was not immediately known.

Her husband, Dr. Nour Ragai, said he wanted his wife to give up the hunger strike for health reasons but "I cannot say where she is."

She last staged a hunger strike in 1953 in an effort to win equal rights for Egyptian women. That strike lasted about two weeks and her husband says she still suffers from the effects of it.

Her statement to the press said she decided to stage the hunger strike "to the death for Egypt's demand for liberty from all points of view—international and national."

Disorder Causes

"I ask international authorities for immediate withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egyptian territory and a definite and just solution for the Arab refugee problem because these two problems are the cause of all disorders prevailing in the Middle East.

"From a national point of view I demand that Egyptian authorities end the dictatorial regime in Egypt which will eventually lead my country to bankruptcy and anarchy."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—The stock market early this afternoon continued a mild recovery from Tuesday's break, the sharpest in four months. Leading issues rose fractions to around a point.

There was a considerable number of stocks which showed no change and also a scattering of small losers. Trading was light.

Sugar stocks showed some exceptional advances in the wake of recent strong prices in world sugar futures although the latter were erratic today.

Steels, motors and rails either held their ground or improved a little.

Reduction of the English Bank rate from 5½ per cent to 5 per cent and a rise in the London stock market were bullish factors as was a report from Detroit of rising automobile output.

U. S. government bonds improved in light transactions.

U. S. May Send Missiles, Weapons To Great Britain

London, Feb. 7 (AP)—Authoritative sources say the United States may furnish Britain both guided missiles and artillery weapons to be fitted with British - made atomic warheads.

Defense Minister Duncan Sandys, just back from talks with American defense officials in Washington, told the House of Commons the two governments are studying "a possible scheme for the adoption by Britain of certain American weapons."

Sandys declined to give full details, but the informants gave this picture of what may result from the talks:

1. The British will have to fit their own atomic warheads to any American weapons they obtain for use by strictly British military units. U. S. law prohibits turning over atomic weapons to other countries.

2. U. S. artillery units equipped with atomic warheads may be assigned to support British divisions or for temporary integration into British outfits.

3. The Americans agreed in principle to help Britain cut its four-billion-dollar annual defense budget and revamp its military manpower program. Details will be worked out.

4. Britain may streamline its four divisions in West Germany in accordance with requirements of the nuclear age. Their total may be cut from 80,000 men to 50,000.

5 enemy tanks, 16 enemy vehicles and inflicted an estimated total of 14,100 casualties on the enemy. They were awarded the Korean Presidential Unit Citation. Many New York anti-aircraft units contributed to the air defense of continental United States during this period.

Two Combat Acres

"In addition to the Army National Guard units, the 106th Bombardment Wing of the New York National Guard, comprising 20 units, was called into federal service. Many of the key officers and non-commissioned officers saw combat service in Korea, two of them as combat "aces."

"A combined total of 7,397 men of the New York Army and Air National Guard were called into Federal service during the Korean conflict.

"This is indeed a strange way of 'dodging the draft'.

"The Guardsmen left at home were the last effective military organization left to the respective states and territories in the event of natural disaster or enemy nuclear attack. Even these forces were available for federal service on an instant's notice. Their companies maintained minimum strength only with the greatest difficulty, chiefly because of the fact that thousands of the recruits Secretary Wilson has branded as 'draft-dodgers' passed voluntarily from the Guard into the army, navy, air force and marine corps to serve in Korea and in Europe.

Served in World War 2

"Of the officers and men left, a high proportion were, and still are, combate veterans of World War 2. What sort of draft-dodgers are these?

"Of the men between 17 and 18½ who were allowed to enter the National Guard and become draft-deferred, not one was at the time of his enlistment eligible for the Korean war draft. Each and every one of these men became available for immediate federal service. Only because of them was it possible for the United States to maintain an effective reserve force against the possibility of a third world war, or extension of the Korean conflict.

"With this record in mind, I do not feel that any officer or enlisted man of the New York National Guard, even among those skeleton-size units that remained at home, need feel any shame over his willingness to participate in this country's defense.

"As to Secretary Wilson's decree that every man enlisted by the National Guard after April 1, 1957, must take six months' training in the active army, the record shows that the National Guard, throughout its history has fought for some effective form of universal military training.

"In the absence of a universal compulsory system of active duty training, however it is folly to expect an American youth, or his parents, pastor and educators to accept a system of training that disrupts the volunteer's education and career while, in many cases, leaving that of the non-volunteer untouched by any form of military service.

"Nor is the six-months period some magic formula that all soldiers must swallow if they are to be qualified to defend themselves and their country. During World War 2 and Korea, the United States Army found that it could give a man basic training, send him through Officer Candidate School and assign him to a unit departing for combat service, all in the six months that Secretary Wilson now says each private must have before he can fire a machine gun or drive a truck.

Guard's Recommendation

"The National Guard has recommended that instead of the unrealistic, arbitrary compulsory six-month requirement, a potential recruit be given a choice between taking the six months' training or taking an 11-weeks basic training period, one Summer, and following it up with the further training at his home town armory and Summer field training and, where possible, with attendance at an Army Service school later in his enlistment.

"By this means, the high school junior who enlists in the National Guard could, at the age of 17, complete his basic training in the summer vacation between his junior and senior years and continue his training with his own unit.

"I sincerely belive that when you have studied the merits of the National Guard you will agree that the maintenance of the National Guard as a first line of our nation's defense is of vital importance. Only a realistic system of training can accomplish this purpose.

Invites Inspection

"I urge you all to visit the state armories, located at North Manor avenue, Kingston and at 61 Market street, Poughkeepsie, at your earliest convenience to familiarize yourselves with the rules and regulations, the training program and equipment, and, above all, the men of your National Guard.

"I am convinced that when you return home, you, too, will be convinced that the New York National Guard remains true to its proud tradition of sacrifice, accomplishment and glory."

Appeals to Parents

In announcing the recruiting goal of 60 men for the battalion, Major Marx said particular emphasis would be placed on reaching the parents of prospective recruits.

"The young man of today is not going to decide on so important a matter as his military future without leaning heavily on the advice of his parents," the major said.

Through enlistment in the National Guard, Maj. Marx said, "A young man can receive his military training while serving with his friends at home; can earn extra money and build up a retirement pension, and has an opportunity to learn new skills which can be valuable to him in civilian life.

"Besides his instruction in soldiering and many technical fields, the Guardsman can attend regular Army service schools and receive pay while doing so. Also, home-study extension courses can be taken, opening the way to faster promotions."

For further information on their sons' careers in the National Guard, parents are invited to visit the state armory on the day of the recruiting drive. Special arrangements have been made for Guard personnel to answer in detail all questions relative to enlistment.

Guard members will devote two hours to drill, following which they will engage in an intensive membership drive for the rest of the evening. In addition to receiving parents at the armory, they will visit the homes of prospective recruits. Recruiting information can also be obtained by calling the 156th Armory, Kingston 156.

A special invitation is extended to young men and their parents to visit the armory and find out what the Guard can do for the young man of today.

Five Are Hurt, Driver Is Held After Accident

Five persons, including an infant, were reported injured, and a driver was arrested on a stop-sign charge as the result of a two-car mishap at Foxhall and Flatbush avenues last night.

Injured were Frank Benicase, 22, of Colonial Gardens, head injury; Barbara Benicase, 17-months old, injuries of the right hand and nose, and Rudolph Mauro, 31, RD 3, Box 349-B, Saugerties, injuries of the right knee, left thumb and cuts on the head; Jack B. Ludwig, 34, of Annandale-on-Hudson injuries of the left knee and elbow, and Leya Ludwig, 33, same address, injuries of the nose, head and right shoulder.

Leya Ludwig, the report said, was taken to Kingston Hospital by Schultz ambulance, was treated and discharged.

Case Adjourned

A police report at 5:39 p. m., said the car of Frank Benicase, was headed north on Foxhall avenue and the sedan of Jack B. Ludwig was going east on Flatbush avenue. Ludwig was arrested by Benicase and charged with passing a stop-sign at the intersection. The case was put over until Monday when he appeared today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino.

The Benicase car was damaged on the front end and left side and was towed from the scene. The Ludwig sedan was damaged on the right side and front, the report said.

Other Mishap

Two cars were damaged in a mishap at the Rondout creek bridge last night, but no injuries were reported. A police report at 8:20 p. m., said the car of Nelson Sleght, of Broadway, Port Ewen was turning right from the bridge into Abeel street, and the car of Carl Robinson, of Five Acres, High Falls, was headed west on Abeel street, stopped for a traffic light.

The Robinson car was towed from the scene, police said.

Whittier Group To Meet Monday

A meeting for the general membership of the Whittier Improvement Association will be held at the YMCA, Monday night, February 11, to further discuss the problem of delivery of homes at the Whittier Development at Flatbush by Keesvale Builders. The meeting will be at 7:30 p. m.

A meeting of the directors of the Association was held Tuesday evening with the builders and as a result of what was disclosed at that time the general meeting was called for next Monday.

At the meeting there will be a discussion on the additional closing cost being imposed. Also to be discussed will be the extension of delivery date.

Since last September a number of IBM employes who are desperately in need of housing, have been negotiating for early delivery of homes in the Whittier development. Various completion dates have been announced but to date deliveries have not come through. A date of Dec. 15 was once set for delivery of approximately 50 homes. That date was not met and Feb. 1 was then set. None was delivered at that time and the directors met with the builders then to ascertain the cause and secure some definite information on delivery. What action will now be taken will be discussed at the meeting Monday.

Save Boy's Life

Milwaukee, Feb. 7 (AP)—The hands of a policeman and two physicians combined yesterday to have the life of nine-year-old Gregory Hanson whose throat was cut in a strange accident that began as a little boys' snowball fight. The series of dramatic events started when a snowball from the innocent hand of another child shattered the glass storm door at the rear of the Hanson home. It was about 5 p. m. Gregory was standing behind the door and a fragment of glass tore into his throat, piercing the juglar vein.

For the past six years her life has been a succession of federal prisons, including two years at Alcatraz. Hed dad is a federal prison official.

Area Is Alerted For Bogus Bills

A warning has been issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York that counterfeit $20 bills are appearing in the Second Federal Reserve District.

Counterfeits are of Federal Reserve notes of the 1950A series. Bills carry the check letter "M" and the number 143 or 43 on the face plate and 834 or 34 on the back.

The face of the notes are reported good facsimilies but the backs have a washed-out appearance. No attempt had been made to simulate the red and blue fiber threads in a genuine bill.

Department stores, bars and bake shops have thus far been the principal victims.

Bake that sponge-cake in ring shape for a change. When it comes out of the oven pour a coffee-flavored glaze over it.

AAL Record for 1956 Reflects U. S. Economy

Appleton, Wis.—A vivid indication of the growth of the American economy is this 1956 record of the Aid Association for Lutherans, represented in Kingston by George J. Maky.

The Aid Association for Lutherans, of Appleton, Wis., is America's largest Lutheran life insurance society. And early last year it confidently expected that about in July it would become the first legal reserve fraternal organization to reach $1 billion of life insurance in force.

Instead the AAL passed that milestone on May 10 and it went on to sell almost $100 million more before Dec. 31. That's more than the 55-year-old society had put in force in its first 25 years of operation.

In 1956 AAL assets jumped eight per cent from $209 million to $225 million. Sales totaled $160 million, 12 per cent over 1955. Insurance in force increased 14 per cent to $1.1 billion.

Industries Gird for Hot Competition This Spring

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—Competition of one industry with another is set to get sharper this coming spring—especially if the business boom should level off.

Some industries are raising campaign chests to aid in the fight with other industries for the consumer's dollar.

And some look for allies in surprising quarters—tight money and the discount houses.

Apparel Firms Pressed

Both the men's wear and the women's wear industries, for example, complain that while the population has been rising and consumers' income left over after taxes has been growing, their share of the dollars spent has been shrinking for several years now.

It's time for a change, they vow. Some think the change is due when the stores start promoting their spring lines.

Belief that tight money could help them rises from this: In recent years the big gain in the share of dollars spent has been by the makers and sellers of durable goods—the big ticket items like autos and appliances—and by the home builders.

Fear Customer Loss

These are among those complaining the most about tight money, which not only makes it harder to finance their businesses, but may, they fear, cut them off from some of their marginal customers.

Apparel makers think that consumers, finding it more costly to finance big ticket items, will turn to soft goods and have mre money left over to spend in the stores to increase their wardrobes.

Aid from the discount houses is even more problematical. But the argument there goes like this: Department stores in a battle for busines with the discount houses (concentrating mostly on gadgets and big ticket items) have been cutting their own profit margins on durables. This leaves the profit margins on soft goods a better mney maker for the stores and may make merchants push these lines harder in their promotion schemes.

The National Coat & Suit Industry Recovery Board, representing some 1,800 makers of women's and children's garments, is raising a $600,000 fund to promote these products.

Not Spending as Much

The board says the dollar volume of sales in this industry has scarcely varied since 1950, although personal income after taxes has gone up 31 per cent in that period, retail sales as a whole have gone up 30 per cent and the female population of the land has increased nine per cent. Even the women, it seems, haven't been spending as much on clothes.

The American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear has also raised a fund to spread the gospel of better dressing by males. The institute says that in 1929 all clothing sales accounted for 14 cents of each dollar spent, with 40 per cent of that 14 cents going for male apparel. Last year only eight cents of each dollar went for clothing, and the men spent 35 per cent of the amount on themselves.

Would Have Dad Spend

The institute thinks the women should not only leave more of the clothing budget for dad but also egg him on to spending it.

The International Assn. of Clothing Designers, noting that back in 1924 it started a campaign to make men more style conscious, thinks it has seen some improvement in the last five years. It is backing the institute in the present drive along that line.

The institute reports that Inter-High School Student Council in Buffalo, N. Y., had considerable success in combatting sloppiness in the classroom—one young man reporting, "when you wear a tie and a business shirt, you feel more like studying and less like fooling around."

The Clothing Manufacturers Assn. reports production of men's suits was up by three per cent last year—with a sizable increase in summer weight clothing for this spring's lines.

So everyone, including your own merchant, is hopeful that you'll spend more this spring on sprucing up.

Bill Limiting Death Penalty in England Is Near

London, Feb. 7 (AP)—A bill limiting the use of the hangman's noose in Britain today appeared on its way to final approval. The death penalty would be retained chiefly for persons killing police officers, murdering with a gun or with explosives, or killing during a robbery.

The House of Commons gave its final approval to a compromise government measure aimed at meeting public clamor for abolition of capital punishment.

Because it is a government bill, overwhelming passage is expected in the largely Conservative House of Lords. The Lords had rejected an earlier Labor party bill abolishing all capital punishment.

Hangings have been stayed in Britain since last June, when the House of Commons approved the first bill.

The new measure retains the death penalty—hanging in Britain—for a second murder no matter what type.

Disagreement Denied

London, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Foreign office today denied news reports from Amman that Britain and Jordan have run into disagreement in their talks to terminate the British-Jordanian treaty. "There is no truth in reports from Amman that a divergence of views has arisen between Jordanian and British negotiators over the timing of the withdrawal of British forces from Jordan," a spokesman said. "Her majesty's government are anxious to conclude and put into effect as rapidly as possible arrangements for terminating the Anglo-Jordan treaty," he added.

Japanese Is Guarded

Manila, Feb. 7 (AP) — Anti-Japanese feeling flared today over the arrival with a good will mission of a Japanese official who reportedly served with the secret police during the wartime occupation of the Philippines. The Japanese, Shoichi Yanase, was remaining in his hotel room with a guard against possible violence. Yanase was said to have been a captain with the secret police (kempeitai) in Manila. He is here as a member of a mission headed by Sen. Hidemi Konishi.

Spaak Reaches N.Y.

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak arrived today on his way to Washington to discuss atomic energy matters with high U. S. officials. However, he said he did not plan to ask for more aid under a current agreement between the U. S. and Belgium for development of peacetime atomic energy uses.

300 Cypriots Quizzed

Nicosia, Feb. 7 (AP) — Police rounded up 300 Greek Cypriot youths for questioning today after at least 12 bomb attacks on British property were reported in Famagusta. Bombs were hurled mainly at cars and the homes of British presidents. Damage was slight. It was Famagusta's first day free of curfew since Sunday when there were bitter clashes between the Greek and Turkish communities. Another bomb exploded in an army depot near Famagusta, badly damaging an excavator but causing no casualties.

Named to FHA Post

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—The appointment of William Frederick Hoffman Jr., of South Orange, N. J., as director of the Federal Housing Administration's mortgage insurance division was announced today. Hoffman, 46, will assume his new duties here Monday, FHA Commissioner Norman P. Mason said.

Life Scout Will Receive Lutheran Medal on Sunday

Life scout Marzell Roming, of Main street, will receive the Pro Deo et Patria award at a special ceremony Sunday during the 11 a. m. service at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement in Saugerties, according to the Rev. Richard I. Crossland, pastor of the local congregation.

Life scout Roming, who is a member of Explorer Post 130, has been working for several years to fulfill the requirements for this medal. Among the requirements are: A knowledge of the Christian Faith as taught in Luther's Catechism; Evidence of Christian Life and Practice by daily reading of the Bible, regular attendance at church, Sunday church school and youth activities and knowledge of certain Bible passages showing Christian Witness in your daily life by winning new members for Christ's Church and for showing love for the church by regular support of the benevolent and local program of the church; a knowledge of Christian Worship and its forms and meanings and symbols; and finally, Christian service, which includes 150 hours of service to the church and a special project.

"Marzell Roming constructed a model church as his project, which took many hours of work. His 150 hours of service to the church included a complete variety of tasks," Pastor Crossland said.

"This Sunday will be observed as Scout Sunday at our church," the pastor announced, "and it is expected that all of the members of the church-sponsored Troop 32 along with their leaders and committeemen will attend. Cub Pack 32, also sponsored by the church will also attend as a group with their leaders."

Members of Troop 32 will take part in the service, serving as ushers, acoltyes, color guards, and Brian Legg will read the Epistle for the day and Edward Strohsahl, the Gospel sermon. William Brackett will give a short presentation on what Scouting means.

Members of the Boy Scout Troop Committee are: Hubert Legg, chairman; Edward Kiernan, Eugene Davis, Donald Genthner, Kenneth Maclary, Scoutmaster and Charles Brackett, assistant scoutmaster.

Members of the Cub Pack Committee are: Roy Weber, cubmaster; William Plimley, Anley Myers Jr., William Hally, Robert Finger, with Mrs. William Plimley and Mrs. George Dennis as den mothers and Mrs. Beverly Knaust as assistant den mother.

In conclusion, the Pastor said, "The regular service of Matins will be held at 8 a. m., and the sermon at both services will be, "A Glimpse of God."

Canada Economy Sound

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 7 (AP) — Canada's economy is one of the soundest and fastest growing in the world, says Charles H. Diefendorf, president of the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce. He told the annual meeting of the Greater Niagara Chamber of Commerce: "The present tight money situation is nothing more or less than sound policy. In the long run it will help to stabilize and strengthen our economies and take some of the steam out of the pressures of inflation."

Many good cooks like to have beef for hamburgers ground coarsely just once.

Harriman Irked On Lack of Funds For Flood Dams

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Gov. Harriman said today he was "greatly disappointed" because President Eisenhower's budget did not provide funds for flood-control dams in the southern tier section of the state.

The Democratic governor declared in a statement that communities in the area had been saved from devastation in 1955 only by a "quirk of nature" and they would "lie in constant jeopardy" until adequate flood-control measure were taken.

Harriman recalled that he appeared before congressional committees last year to urge appropriations for five dams.

40 Million Needed

Congress authorized construction of the dams 20 years ago but never provided the funds. It has been estimated they would cost a total of 40 million dollars.

They would be situated at Davenport Center, on Charlotte Creek; at West Oneonta, on Otego creek; Smithville flats, on Geneganslet creek; South Plymouth on Canasawaca creek; and Copes Corners, on Butterbur creek.

Harriman had asked for a million dollars for planning and preliminary construction of the Davenport Center dam and a total of $468,000 for planning of the four other dams.

Stresses Need

Harriman maintained that Eisenhower's budget director was "aware of the need" and that the Army Engineer Corps had concluded "after thorough study" that the dams were necessary.

"Our request is modest and our need is great," the governor asserted.

Harriman said the President's budget office explained that the projects were omitted because of "budgetary limitations."

But he said that was "hard to understand" because the budget allocated several million dollars for flood-control projects in other states.

Speidel Is Named NATO Force Head

Paris, Feb. 7 (AP)—West German Lt. Gen. Hans Speidel has finally been named commander of NATO land forces in central Europe. He assumes his new duties April 1, the first German to hold a top post in the North Atlantic command.

U. S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of allied powers in Western Europe, announced the appointment. It had been expected for weeks, despite some objections in France and Britain to giving the important post to the former chief of staff to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

Norstad's announcement said the appointment was made "with the concurrence of the powers concerned." France was reported to have agreed finally because French forces in NATO have been reduced considerably due to the situation in Algeria.

The French also were said to regard Speidel—who drafted the terms for France's surrender in 1940—as having been a military thinker and planner rather than a field commander for Hitler. In his new post he succeeds a Frenchman, Gen. Marcel Carpentier, who resigned last year.

Briefly Told

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Bill of Rights Week will be observed in New York state schools Feb. 17-23.

Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. said observance would stress the contributions of many persons who came to America and became patriots in the cause of freedom.

* * *

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—A decline in the bee population and unfavorable weather cut New York state's honey production to 5,730,000 pounds last year, a drop of 42 per cent from 1955.

The State Agriculture Department said today that the number of bee colonies at the start of 1956 was four per cent fewer than a year previous. They produced 30 pounds of honey per colony compared with 50 the year before.

The department attributed the production decline to cool, wet weather.

The honey yield throughout the nation was down 15 per cent last year from 1955, the department said.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Republican legislative leaders have selected Chester H. Lang of Schenectady to succeed Chancellor John Myers on the State Board of Regents.

Lang and Everett J. Penny of White Plains, chosen by the GOP earlier this week, will be named Regents officially by the state Legislature next week.

Penny will succeed William Wallin of Yonkers on the board, which governs the state's education system. The Regents serve without pay.

Lang, a retired vice president for public relations of the General Electric Co., will not be designated chancellor. The 13-member board chooses its presiding officer.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Three new signs aimed at increasing truck safety are spotted on New York highways.

The State Traffic Commission said today the signs were requested by Gov. Harriman and recommended by his committee on tractor-trailer safety.

"Lower Gear Zone Ahead" was adopted for use at points 600 feet ahead of the first sign ordering use of lower gear on hills. These will go on about 70 hills.

"Lower Gear and Speed Zone Ahead" is installed 600 feet ahead of signs marking such zones on five of the state's steepest and longest grades.

"Truck" is placed atop the other new signs when the relations apply only to trucks and tractor-trailers.

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Damaged in a gasoline-fed fire in a truck depot yesterday is estimated at $200,000 .

No one was injured. Four persons fled from the building when the fire broke out.

The roof of the one-story brick structure collapsed.

The fire threatened an underground storage tank containing 7,000 gallons of gasoline. Smaller storage units and oil drums exploded during the blaze.

Reno Returning To Normal After Gas Explosions

Reno, Feb. 7 (AP)—Downtown Reno, torn by explosion and fire Tuesday, had hopes of getting back to normal today.

Two of the main business blocks have been closed since the blasts. The evacuation area was doubled yesterday after some jittery, blast-conscious residents told the fire department they thought they smelled propane-air gas fumes.

More than 60 gas detection experts from half a dozen agencies worked through the night to be sure that no hidden concentrations remained in pioneer irrigation and drainage ditches which have been "built over" in the course of the city's growth.

When ditches are checked, the crews will turn to the mains and meters of the Sierra Pacific Power Co. which delivers the propane gas supply to Reno.

That procedure was determined yesterday at a somewhat stormy meeting of city officials and others interested.

Several felt checks by the utility company of its own facilities and assurance they were in order were sufficient to warrant opening of the blocked off evacuated area.

Beans Delivered in Flat Pans on Trucks Until Canning Problem Solved

For many years Grandma Brown's Home-Baked Beans were sold and delivered right in open pans. First it was the old 1928 Ford that carried the pans; then came trucks delivering the pans of beans to grocery stores in a constantly wider area of distribution.

Finally this area of distribution became so large that delivery of beans in pans became impractical. Some method had to be devised for sealing the beans in cans.

Here Grandma Brown and her family ran into difficulty. Home baked beans hot from the oven had never before been canned. The problem was to retain the distinctive homemade flavor and aroma of these old-fashioned baked beans.

After months of consultation and experimentation a method was arrived at whereby all the hearty country-style goodness and flavor of Grandma Brown's Home-Baked Beans is sealed in at the peak of appetizing perfection. This is the can that is opened regularly in thousands of homes throughout New York State.

With the demand for Grandma Brown's Home-Baked Beans increasing steadily as new markets are opened, this canning equipment up in the Mexico, N. Y. plant is operating at overtime capacity turning out these wonderfully different and delicious home baked beans. Now they are in stock on supermarket and grocery store shelves throughout the Kingston area.

Heart Fund Drive Is Opened Here

The 1957 Heart Fund campaign officially opened yesterday in Leherb's at a luncheon meeting with more than 50 Ulster County Heart Chapter members physicians, nurses, teachers and other leaders from Kingston and townships of Ulster county attending.

Percy Bush, vice chairman, presided in the absence of Mrs. Vincent Connelly, chairman of the Ulster County Heart Chapter.

Dr. Ralph D. Alley, professor in chest surgery at Albany Medical College, was the speaker. He was introduced by Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, Sr., president of the Ulster County TB & Health Association.

Dr. Alley reported on the heart research project at the Albany Medical Center. He spoke of the experiments being carried on in cardiovascular surgery.

Hope to Learn More

Much study is also being given on blood vessels of the heart, he said, in the hope of learning more about coronory heart disease.

Dr. Alley thanked the members of the Heart Chapter and the many contributors to the Heart Fund in Ulster county for their contribution of $1,200 to the Albany research team last year.

He demonstrated his talk by chalk drawings and spoke especially of the scientific study of one of his team whom, he said, would no doubt become one of the leading heart scientists in the country.

Following Dr. Alley's talks, a short business meeting was held. Mr. Bush spoke of the program of education, consultations, diagnostic tests, the rheumatic fever control program in the schools and other services being carried on by the Ulster County Heart Chapter.

Appeal by Letter

William S. Keyser's report of the 1957 Heart Campaign showed that plastic hearts have already been distributed by the township chairmen and organizations in Kingston.

The letter appeal will start about Feb. 14, except in Highland and town of Lloyd, where Heart Sunday, Feb. 24, will be observed and workers will visit their friends and neighbors and accept heart contributions.

Seventy percent of monies collected are kept in Ulster County for local programs. Half of the 30 per cent forwarded to the American Heart Association is used for heart and blood vessel research.

At the meeting it was unanimously voted to contribute again, a direct grant to the research program, being conducted at the Albany Medical Center, under the direction of Dr. Alley and his associates.

It was also voted that the Ulster County Heart Chapter contribute all memorial gifts donated by individuals and organizations, in remembrance of a member, relative or friend, directly to Albany Heart Research Project.

PRINCIPALS AT HEART FUND LUNCHEON—The 1957 Heart Fund campaign was officially opened Wednesday at a luncheon meeting held at Leherb's. (L-R) Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association; Dr. Ralph D. Hungarian Reds Seize 32 Persons In Border Raid

Budapest, Feb. 7 (AP) — The Communist government's radio Budapest announced today that police arrested 32 persons in a raid in the small town of St. Gotthard, near the Austrian border.

The prisoners were charged with anti-government activity, hiding of weapons and aiding anti-Communist refugees to flee the country.

Despite strict armed controls, several dozen persons a day are still getting into Austria. The closing of the southern border has also reduced, but not completely stopped, escapes into Yugoslavia.

Radio Budapest also reported that the government of Premier Janos Kadar, which has charged that counter-revolutionaries are destroying collectivized agriculture in Hungary, is working busily to rebuild disbanded collective farms. The radio claimed 500 collectives were re-established up to Jan. 25 and that Hungary now again has 1,999 collectives embracing 500,000 acres. When the October revolution exploded many peasants broke up collective farms, divided the lands and cattle and set themselves up independently.

Winners Named In Window Contest Of Scout Council

Cub Pack 4 of the Fair Street Reformed Church and Boy Scout Troop 12 of the First Dutch Church were the winners in the annual window display contest sponsored by the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, in conjunction with the current Boy Scout Week celebration.

The winning displays are located at 34 John street in the former Gramer store, and Shapiro's Paint store at 63 North Front street.

Second and third places in the Cub Scout windows were awarded to Cub Pack 16 of St. Peter's Episcopal Church of Stone Ridge, located in the High Falls Hardware store, and Cub Pack 5 of the Jewish Community Center, located at M. Yallum Sons on lower Broadway.

Boy Scout Troop 6 of the First Baptist Church, showing in the Montgomery Ward window at 19 North Front street, placed second in the older-boy group, with Troop 26 of the Port Ewen Reformed Church, displaying in the Town Hall of Port Ewen, in third place.

Covered Wide Area

Window displays, featuring Scout Week, were located in Port Ewen, High Falls, Rosendale and Kingston. The Commissioners Staff of the Kingston District, acting as judges for the displays, reported over 20 attractive windows depicting various forms of Boy Scout and Cub Scout activity. Acting as judges for the event were Edward E. Safford, Gordon Craig Jr., Richard Waltman, Joseph Shapiro and George Clark.

A system of points, used in determining the best window displays, included attractiveness, lighting, public interest, and unit planning. Awards to the winning units and all participating units will be made at the district roundtable meeting scheduled for Monday, February 18, at the First Baptist Church on Albany avenue, beginning at 7:45 p. m.

Natural Borings

Nature provides her own uranium test borings on the Colorado plateaus. Mineralized zones exposed by erosion on steep cliff walls can be detected without costly drilling.

Early Lamp

The cobbler's lamp used in the Middle Ages had four water-filled globes mounted on a square stand. The rays of the candle were diffused when they passed through the globes.

Deliverers End Strike in N.Y.

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—Newspaper and magazine deliverers have voted to end a six-day strike which curtailed distribution in the New York metropolitan area. They were expected back on the job today.

At a stormy meeting last night, members of the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union (Ind.) by a voice vote accepted a once-rejected contract offer of newspaper and magazine wholesalers.

$9 for Two Years

The offer, recommended last week by the union's executive board but at that time turned down by the membership, calls for a $9 weekly package over two years.

As Sam Feldman, union president, announced the result of the new voting, some members shouted disagreement and several fist fights broke out.

Many workers gathered after the meeting to sign petitions against the vote. Some men indicated they might not go back to work today.

Suburbs Hard Hit

The strike cut down newspaper deliveries to retail dealers, especially in the suburbs.

The strikers are not newspaper employes and were acting only against 31 wholesalers.

A spokesman for the wholesalers said the new contract would provide the deliverers with an average wage of $105.65 for a 37-hour work week.

Arson Probe Is Begun Following Syracuse Blaze

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—The second general alarm fire in less than 24 hours wrecked an empty warehouse early today and touched off an arson investigation.

Fire Marshal John M. Dacy said today's fire was the work of an arsonist. He said the fire department believed the fire was started by a 14-year-old youth.

The warehouse fire broke out during the early morning rush-hour and snarled traffic for nearly an hour. No one was injured.

Fire officials said a boy was noticed at three minor fires during the night. All the fires were in the north section of the city.

More Snow Slides Feared in Idaho

(By The Associated Press)

A forecast of continued mild weather and scattered showers today brought a prediction of more snow slides along the Idaho-Montana border, where yesterday cascading snow trapped two transcontinental trains and closed highways temporarily. No one was injured.

A Milwaukee railroad westbound streamliner was trapped 11 hours between slides in the St. Joe Mountains before switching to Northern Pacific tracks and continuing to Spoken.

Train is Halted

An eastbound Milwaukee streamliner was halted by a slide just east of Avery, Idaho. Snowplows pulled the train back to Avery, where it was rerouted.

Tons of fast-moving snow in the Bitterroot Mountains knocked off the tracks and buried an eastbound Northern Pacific freight. One diesel unit rolled 75 feet down a bank.

The train was made up of two diesel units, three freight cars and a caboose.

U. S. highways 10 and 10A, high in the Bitterroots in western Montana, were closed temporarily because of slides. Snow 12 feet deep was reported across U. S. highway 2 between Nyack and East Glacier.

Yesterday's slides were East of Wardner, Idaho, where an avalanche Tuesday killed one person, injured three others and forced many residents to flee the mining town.

Exposure Linked To Girls' Deaths

Chicago, Feb. 7 (AP) — The Chicago American said today it had learned that scientists have concluded the Grimes sisters died of exposure.

The nude, frozen bodies of Barbara Grimes, 15, and Patricia, 13 ,were found along a suburban road Jan. 22.

The American, quoting "a reliable" but unnamed source, said four dotcors seeking to fix the cause of death were baffled by "the greater mystery of how the girls were made to remain in the intense cold until they died."

It said the scientists had ruled out eight possibilities: The girls "were not beaten into unconsciousness, bound and left to die, gassed, electrocuted, poisoned by any usual drug, doped, made drunk or wounded by any weapon."

So far, the cause of death has not been fixed officially.

The American said its informant related no evidence was found to indicate a struggle and "the girls obviously went to their death relaxed."

city. There was a total of 8,874 who enrolled in the Democratic party, of which 7,265 were in the county and 1,609 in the city of Kingston .

The total Liberal Party enrollments was 179, of which 109 were in the county and 70 in the City of Kingston.

The total enrollment in 1956 for the county districts was 33,012 and in the city of Kingston 7,828, a total enrollment of 40,840.

In 1952 the last previous presidential year, the total enrollment was 36,032 of which 28,045 were Republican, 7,903 Democratic, 84 Liberal and at that time there were 50 enrolled in the American Labor Party. There were 15,542 void or blank enrollment blanks, making a total who appeared at the polls of 51,624.

In 1955 there were 45,513 enrollment blanks handed out, indicating that number of voters in the city and county, and the total city and county enrollment was 31,607. The total for the city and county was 23,806 enrolled Republicans; 8,350 enrolled Democrats; 61 enrolled Liberal Party members and there were 13,296 void or unused enrollment blanks.

In the county that year 18,799 Republicans enrolled; 6,745 Democrats and 42 Liberals. There were 6,021 void or blank enrollment ballots. In the City of Kingston in 1955 Republican enrollment was 5,007; Democrats 1,605; Liberals 19 and there were 7,275 void or blank enrollment ballots, for an apparent vote of 13,906.

Since 56,537 enrollment blanks were handed out in 1956 and only 51,624 in 1952, it is estimated the voting population in the past four years has increased by 4,913, these figures being those for "presidential years" when there is normally a large vote cast.

Scouts Launch Fund Campaign

Woodstock, Feb. 6—The annual "kick-off" dinner to launch the drive for funds for the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held for Woodstock workers Tuesday night in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church. The Rev. Harvey I. Todd and Robert Gordon are co-chairmen of the drive.

Among the captains of the groups working in the community are Albert M. Wangler; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Taylor, who are co-captains with Jack Gibson; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cousins; Fred Toms and Dr. Paul Perlman, co-captains; Clifford Dunkle of Lake Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holumzer of Zena, assisted by Mrs. William J. Vogel and Mrs. David Mellert; Everand Short of Wittenberg, Charles Bailey and Edgar Baker; Kurt Butz; John M. Majoras of Pine Grove; Elbert Matthews and Mrs. Helen Buttrick.

The dinner was attended by 30 people working on the drive, and guests who included John Alto, president of the Rip Van Winkle Council; Harrey Allen of Pine Hill, chairman of the fund drive for the Council; Eugene Johnson, field representative of the Council for Kingston; the Rev. Ernest Estes of the Phoenicia Baptist Church; Walter Balk, Woodstock scoutmaster.

Mr. Balk, in the opening speech, described the ideals of scouting. Mr. Alto gave statistics on the management of the Rip Van Winkle Council.

The dinner was served by the following: Mrs. Fred Toms, Mrs. Eva Burt, Mrs. Pearl Shultis and Mrs. John Majoras. Explorer Scout Cappy Foster assisted with the serving.

Gaiety and Color Mark Polio Shows

Woodstock, Feb. 6 — In the dead of winter, when entertainment in a resort village such as Woodstock is at a low ebb, a sure-fire area of gaiety and color may always be found in the vicinity of the annual March of Dimes show, presented Saturday and Sunday evenings under the auspices of the committee in charge of the drive for funds, headed by William Hand.

This year's national music trend is toward Calypso songs and rhythms, and Woodstock has its able adherents in Barbara Moncure, with her guitar, David Donaldson, who sang with Mrs. Moncure and played the gourds. They were joined in the final number by Mrs. Moncure's son Steve, in a tantalizing song of the land.

Woodstock's versatile "intimate" musical group composed of Nick Gentile, guitar, Bill West, vibraphone, and Vic Allen, bass, performed a group of numbers with a unique variety of rhythms and treatment, including "Cindy," "Gonna Get Along Without You Now," and "Sweet Georgia Brown."

Fritizi Striebel's ballads inspired by scenes about the world where she has visited are haunting and lovely, superbly sung by Penny Carlson with fine accompaniment by Barbara Moncure on her guitar.

Mutzi Axel was emcee for the evening and musical interludes were played by Clem Nessel and her band, giving a lively pace to the performance.

The first play, a mystery entitled "One of Us," was a gripping chiller complete with terrifying moments. Kiki Godwin achieved frightening stature as the mad sister, Fritzi Stribel won sympathy as the poignant mother and Frank Alexander was convincing as the troubled son engaged to the young successful writer played handsomely by Rena Altenritter. Sonya Malkine was excellent as the vicious wife, and Dick Lee handled her weakling husband with competence.

In an abrupt change from the tense atmosphere of the isolated house in Vermont, scene of the thriller, The Woodstock Community Players shifted to Granny Perkin's farm, setting for a zany melodrama, "He Ain't Done Right by Nell," with Peggy Wilson, the pipe-smoking Granny, Norma Champanier as her friend Lolly and glamorous Caryl Cashdollar as the beset Nell. The audience hissed the villain, Andy Shekitka in swirling cape and high hat, and cheered the noble acts of Bill West the hero. Barbara Moncure and Mutzi Axel completed the cast.

Both plays were directed by Elaine Funk, assisted by Pomeroy Lee.

Although he was unable to appear in Saturday night's performance, Harrison Muller thrilled his audience with his spectacular "big" dance number.

Thanks were expressed to members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for assistance with the scenery. They were Bob Hastie, Ted Altenritter, Andre Neher and Art Hanson.

Members of the production staff for the show were as follows Frank Minervini, Stage manager; Gus Tolka, sets; Terri Mainiero, costumes; Bill Pierpont, Jr., props; Paul Greenberg, lights; Dacia Pierpont, prompter; Barton Good curtain; Kiki Godwin, publicity; Bill George, box office cashier.

String Quartet Plays Feb. 17th

Woodstock, Feb. 6 — The Woodstock String Quartet will be heard at the Woodstock Art Gallery, Sunday, Feb. 17, at 3:30 p. m.

The newly organized Woodstock String Quartet consists of Alice Smiley and Rosemarie Phelps, violinists; Frank Mele, violist, and Hans Cohn, cellist.

Alice Smiley is well known as a concert violinist, having performed at Town Hall and other concert halls in the country. Her last appearance in Woodstock was at Miss Alice Wardwell's studio in the summer of 1955, during an afternoon of chamber and vocal music. Rosemarie Phelps is talented both as a violinist and as a painter. She recently had a one-man show at the Peridot Gallery in New York, which was well received by the critics.

Frank Mele has had wide experience in the concert field; he has played with Pittsburgh, Rochester and Syracuse Symphony orchestras. In 1953 he played with the Yaddo Music Festival as a member of the Modern Art String Quartet. Mr. Mele was also manager of the Maverick Sunday Concerts for several seasons, and organized Woodstock's first Festival of modern music.

Dr. Cohn has found time from his busy practice to play with many Woodstock concert groups over a long period of time, and made special arrangements to play with various string ensemble groups on his trip to Europe last spring. His most recent appearance as a cellist was at the successful concert given at Woodstock Town Hall last December for the benefit of Hungarian relief.

For their first concert the artists have chosen works by Haydn, Mozart and Brahms. They will play Haydn's Quartet in G Major, Opus 77, No. 1, Mozart's Quartet in D Major, Kochel 575, (one of the "cello quartets"), and the Quartet in G Major, Opus 51, No. 2 by Brahms. Tickets will be on sale at the Catskill Book and Record Shop, the News Shop and at the box office.

How Did Alabama Get Its Name?

The original meaning of Alabama, one of the most beautiful state names, has never been determined beyond doubt.

When white men first visited the region now comprising the State of Alabama, the word that we now spell Alabama was applied to an Indian tribe living on the upper Alabama River not far below the point where that stream is formed by the union of the Coosa and Tallapoosa. These Indians were of Muskhogean stock and belonged to the Creek confederacy. The narratives dealing with Hernando de Soto's expedition in 1539-40 refer to "the province of Alibamo" in northwestern or central Mississippi and it is possible that a band of this same tribe lived in that region. As a rule, these natives were called Alibamos by the Spanish, Alibamons by the French and Alibamus or Alabamas by the English. The name was spelled more than 30 ways before it assumed its present form.

Other Alderman

The name of Alderman Frank Zakseski, fourth ward, inadvertently appeared where that of Frank C. Sass, seventh ward, should have been in one phase of the account of Tuesday night's Common Council meeting in Wednesday's Freeman. The account should have noted that it was Alderman Sass who had called attention to conditions on Wurts street in a letter to the Board of Public Works.

Marines Probing Mistreatment at Recruit Center

Parris Island, S. C., Feb. 6 (AP)—Marine authorities at this recruit depot are probing charges by several recruits that they have been mistreated by drill instructors in their platoon.

A Marine spokesman said last night that four drill instructors, all assigned to the same platoon, have been removed from instruction duty.

Two Are Accused

Two of the instructors, the spokesman said, have been accused of striking recruits during training maneuvers.

The source said the investigation will determine whether formal charges will be placed against any of the instructors.

The spokesman said a preliminary probe was started about four weeks ago after Gen. Homer L. Litzenberg, the base commander, received an anonymous letter citing possible cases of maltreatment.

The letter was reportedly sent by Nelson R. Porter of Hartford, Vt., whose son, David L. Porter, was among the recruits making the accusations. The elder Porter was reported en route here.

The drill instructors were not identified.

Struck by Bar

The New York Times and New York Daily News, in dispatches from Parris Island, quoted the elder Porter as saying his son had been struck on the head with a steel bar.

The Times quoted Col. Robert Vance, chief of staff of the recruit training command, as saying: "there is no evidence to indicate he (young Porter) was struck with a steel bar. We have nothing to substantiate any such statement. Several boys were struck over a period of several days. None of the recruits were hospitalized."

Pack 19 Display In Store Window

"Men of Tomorrow" is the theme of the window display presented by Cub Pack 19, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1386, in the Union Fern furniture window at 328 Wall street.

The display, planned by the Pack Committee and built by the Cub Scouts, features the "extra activities" promoted by Cub Pack 19 during 1956. Each activity is pictured through the medium of an individual display and designated by a corresponding sign. A total of 48 Cub Scouts serviced by the Veterans of Foreign Wars' Cub Pack, participated in the extra activities during the past year.

Saugerties C of C New Membership Decals Available

Saugerties, Feb. 7—New Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce decals replacing the membership plaques usually distributed to all members, arrived this week at the Chamber of Commerce office, according to Albert J. Cawein, executive secretary.

The 1957 membership decals are suitable for windows and other glass surfaces and will designate those in the community supporting the improvement, expansion and progress of the town of Saugerties.

All current members and those submitting dues for 1957 will receive one decal. Additional decals are available to members at cost.

The new decals, six inches square consist of white and black printing on gold and silver background. The emblem on the decal portrays a gear wheel in the center of which is pictured stores and buildings denoting industry and other symbols indicating progress, entertainment and culture. The phrase "A Friendly Community" is embodied in the emblem.

Cementon Auxiliary Sets Card Party Social

Saugerties, Feb. 7—Final arrangements for a card party social will be made at the regular monthly meeting of Cementon Auxiliary of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp Thursday, Feb. 14 in the parish hall. A covered dish luncheon will be served at 12 noon.

The card party is scheduled for Friday, Feb. 15 at 8 p. m. in the parish hall. Donations of awards will be accepted by Mrs. John J. Prendergast of West Camp or Mrs. Roy J. Potts of Cementon.

Consolidation Group Discusses Future Dates

A general meeting of the Greater Kingston Area school consolidation was held Wednesday night at the Court House with approximately 15 present. The principal topic for discussion with trustees of the districts was that of setting up additional dates for holding "information" meetings in the area.

Several tentative dates were set but definite action was not taken. An announcement of the additional dates and district where these meetings will be held will be announced when the dates have been confirmed.

Weather Fronts

Weather "fronts" are the leading edge of air masses which continually move across the United States in a generally easterly direction.

Girl Scout Annual Meeting Is Held; Programs Announced

The year of 1956 brought another sharp increase in girl membership within the 12 neighborhoods under the jurisdiction of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc. Membership figures compiled during the January annual report work period revealed an overall total of 1980 Brownies and Girl Scouts registered within the county's 104 troops in contrast to the 1578 girl members registered within 91 county troops at the close of December 1955.

"The trend within Ulster county coincides with figures issued by the National Organization of the Girl Scouts, U. S. A. in which statistics show that by 1960 Girl Scouts may increase as much as 50 per cent over 1955 whereas the available woman power for adequate leadership will be increasing only 2 per cent in the same period," Mrs. Donovan Buehring, Council president, told members of the Board of Directors and the New Paltz and Wallkill Neighborhoods at a joint meeting held at the St. Andrews Episcopal Church in New Paltz on Monday. These startling facts point up the immediate need for recruitment in all phases of Scouting.

To get action underway, the Board has designated the week following Girl Scout Week, March 18-23 as Ulster county Girl Scout Recruitment Week. Mrs. Daniel VanWagenen of Kingston, county membership-nominating committee chairman, has been named general chairman.

Scouting emphasis throughout the Neighborhoods and the troops during February will be directed toward Girl Scout Week, March 10-16, celebrating the 45th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts by Juliette Gordon Low, in Savannah, Georgia, March 12, 1912. This year's theme will be "Scouting Is a Family Affair." The principal emphasis during Girl Scout Week will be to demonstrate that Girl Scouting is an influence for good in American families.

In conjunction with the celebration, a widespread campaign will be launched which will include window displays. Awards for the best window display will be given at the annual Spring Council dinner. Mrs. David Ennis, county program chairman and Mrs. John Lacey, county public relations chairman will direct the commemorative activities.

The annual cookie sale, proceeds of which help maintain Camp Wendy, the official girl scout camp, will be launched during Girl Scout Week. Mrs. William Reardon of Kingston will be general chairman with Mrs. Gloria Height as co-chairman.

Ernest Ahlberg of New Paltz, county camp chairman, announced that plans are underway for an improved camp this year. He also announced that the 1957 camping fee has been set at $45 per girl scout for a two-week period and $50 for out-of-county scouts. Registration for county scouts has been set for April 1. Out-of-county girls will register after April 15.

Neighborhoods are urged to direct their efforts toward successfully concluding the current Juliette Low Fund Drive within the area Council by Feb. 25. The drive opened in early December with an ultimate goal of one dollar for every registered adult scout within each neighborhood. The local drive is concurrent with a national appeal and drive for funds to complete the restoration of the Juliette Low Birthplace at Savannah, Ga.

Mrs. David Ennis is chairman of the drive and is assisted by Mrs. Karl Fleckenstein of Ellenville.

Mrs. Alex Gerlak, county training chairman, announced the following workshops:

Feb. 15—Indoor and Out-door program, New Paltz, open to all adult scouts: Mrs. Allen Mickel, trainer.

Feb. 28—In-door and Out-door program, Onteora, Mrs. Frank Graney, trainer.

Feb. 8 — Finance Institute, Henry Hudson Hotel, New York city.

Feb. 25—American Camping Association Membership meeting, Herald Tribune Building, New York city.

March 2 — "New Ways of Working to Improve Intergroup Relations Through Camping," one day clinic, Building for Brotherhood, New York city.

Marinate scallops in lemon juice for about an hour before broiling on skewers. Alternate the scallops with mushroom caps; baste with butter during the cooking.

Musical Society Plans Meeting Wednesday

On Wednesday at 8:15 p. m., the Musical Society of Kingston will meet at the home of Mrs. Amos Newcombe, Manor Lake.

The society will continue the study of the British Isles. The program will consist of the music of Wales. A number of vocal selections will be featured.

The program will be under the direction of the Mmes. Clarence Beehler and Willard Burke.

School 3 P-TA Plans Card Party Tuesday

A card party sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of School 3 will be held Tuesday at the school.

Committee chairmen in charge of arrangements include Mrs. Louis Ellsworth, general chairman; Mrs. Harold Waterman, tables; Carl Cline and George Norton, awards; Ladislaus Tomaszewski, tickets; Mrs. Michael Bailey, refreshments.

Tickets may be obtained at the door or from room mothers who include the Mmes. June Van DerZee, Gertrude Fitzgerald, Carl Cline, LeRoy Williams, James Lindsay, Frank Woerner, Ladislaus Tomaszewski, Thomas Mosley, Michael Bailey and Lester Hymes.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

A DINNER GUEST RECEIVES A TELEPHONE CALL

A hostess writes me as follows: 'The other evening I invited several friends in to dinner. During the course of the meal, one of the guests received a telephone call. She did not return to the table for almost ten minutes. By that time the food on her plate had become cold. Should I have offered her hot food? I did not do so, but my husband thinks I was very discourteous not to have done so. I would very much like to have your opinion on this matter."

If you could easily have sent her plate to the kitchen where it would have been kept warm, tthat would have been the polite thing for you to do. Nothing further was required. After all it was your guest who was inexcusably rude—unless the telephone call she asked to have made to your house was of vital importance.

Announcing An Engagement

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine told me that you said it was not proper to send out engagement announcements. We're not having a party to announce the engagement and I had intended to send engraved announcements to our many friends and relatives—many of them living out of town. This information rather puts a crimp in our plans. Is this true, or has my friend misinterpreted your advice?

Answer: It is true. Correctly, the engagement is announced in the newspapers, and by letters to intimate friends who quickly spread the news.

When Asked "Who Is Calling?"

Dear Mrs. Post: When calling a business office and the telephone operator asks, "Who is calling?" what is the proper reply to make? Would it be correct to answer, "Mr. John Brown calling," or should the title be omitted?

Answer: It is quite proper to announce himself as Mr. John Brown to an unrecognized voice. To a social acquaintance, and, of course, to a friend, he would omit the title.

Should table linens be monogrammed, and if so, where should the monogram be placed? This and many other suggestions on the types of linen for various occasions are included in leaflet E-32, "Table Linens." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Odd Fellows Will Sponsor Students To UN Pilgrimage

Sponsorship of two high school students to the eighth annual Odd Fellows Youth Pilgrimage to the United Nations was announced today by Noble Grand Frederick R. Reynolds of Bearsville Lodge, No. 533, Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

The two students, one from Kingston High School and one from Onteora Central School, will be selected by the two schools by April 1 and the winners will enjoy an all-expense paid one-week trip to New York city where with some 600 other students from high schools in the U. S., Canada and Hawaii they will visit the United Nations, attend the general assembly meetings, interview delegates from the various nations and be given a comprehensive tour of the huge building. They also will see Radio City, Coney Island and take in a legitimate play.

The committee in charge, Willard A. Berryan, district deputy grand master of Ulster District, IOOF. Paul W. Rowe and Maurice F. Hamilton, already have contacted Principal M. Clifford Miller of Kingston High School and Supervising Principal John H. Moehle of Onteora and both are wholeheartedly in favor of the project.

The students will make the visit during July, at an exact time to be announced. The only conditions in the selection of the two representatives are that they be residents of the township of Woodstock, be 16 or 17 years of age, be sophomores or juniors, and in good physical condition.

Forces Way for Club

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—John A. Roosevelt and several political associates are suing in court to compel the Manhattan GOP organization to let them form a "Metropolitan Republican Club." The son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt says he and his group want to enlist persons principally interested in government rather than the devotees of party organization and politics who make up the bulk of existing clubs. Roosevelt, a business man and active Eisenhower supporter, filed an affidavit in New York State Supreme Court yesterday.

History of Catskills Related At Onteora School Wednesday

One of the most interesting forum meetings of the Onteora Central School Adult Education group was held Wednesday night when Alf Evers, president of the Woodstock Historical Society, addressed the group on "The Lore and Lure of the Catskills." The class, which originally started out with four, has grown to an attendance of over 150 last night.

Mr. Evers gave a detailed and interesting description of the Catskill area, rediting numerous humorous incidents connected with the area as well as many historical points. In a narrative form he spoke to a most interested audience for two hours. He told of the formation of the mountain area, spoke of the Indian life, touched upon the industrial life and gave a general information talk.

Was Glass Turnpike

The glass industry, which once thrived in the area, was discussed and Mr. Evers said the present Glasco Turnpike was once known as the Glass Company Turnpike. For years a large amount of window glass was produced in the area. He also spoke of the tannery business which thrived until the giant hemlocks were exhausted. As these trees, from which tanbark was taken, gradually became exhausted the tannery business moved about in search of a new supply. Tannersville was once the center of the great tannery business in the Catskills.

Bluestone, which supplied much of the "sidewalks of New York," he described as once a thriving industry and was later to become replaced when Portland cement use came into being for concrete walks. He referred to the high quality of Catskill mountain bluestone and also of the special type of blue stone which was used for curbing. There is still a good demand for the curbing. Bluestone not only was available in great quantities close to New York but it supplied a material which would take wear and was not slippery in walks when wet.

The literature of the Catskill section was also discussed and he associated it with Washington Irving and his Sleepy Hollow legend. Poetry and music of the area was also discussed and he referred to the time Thomas Cole spent in the area gathering material. He also spoke of the humor which has come out of the area and presented abstracts from old store ledgers of days gone by. Early church music and the "singing schools" which once thrived in the area were referred to and he spoke of the coming of art to the area, telling of Hervey White who founded the Maverick and made Woodstock famous as an art center.

The early rent wars, when the first solid objection to land rentals, was voiced was also spoken of. During the rent war it was necessary to send troops into the area and at one time these troops were quartered in the barn on the Moses Shultis property at Wittenberg.

The speaker at the next session on Wednesday, Feb. 13, will be John Pike, artist. That session will start at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Favors Rollback Of Oil Increase

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP) — A Florida utility official said today that if the oil industry can make its recent price increases stick the action will "have unlimited inflationary effects nationwide."

McGregor Smith, chairman of the board of Florida Power & Light Co., testified before a joint Senate antimonopoly-interior subcommittee which is inquiring into recent oil price increases and the operation of the emergency oil-for-Europe program.

Against Regulation

He expressed hope congressional inquiries would persuade the oil industry to roll back prices. Saying he did not advocate government regulation, Smith continued:

"Certainly an increase of 30 per cent to 40 per cent in the cost of such a basic commodity as fuel will have unlimited inflationary effects nationwide."

Smith said "the sudden and enormous increase in fuel oil prices at the refineries . . . will add some six million dollars to the electric bills for approximately 600,000 customers" of his company.

Unnecessary Boost

"Although I am primarily interested in what can be done to get the price of oil down for the benefit of our customers," Smith said, "I am just as interested in preventing the future of Florida being jeopardized by, what to me appears to be, an unnecessary increase in the commodity upon which our entire state is so dependent."

Urges Contempt Action Against Teamster Chiefs

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Senate's Government Operations Committee today recommended that four officials of the Teamsters union be prosecuted on contempt of Congress charges.

One of the four is Einar O. Mohn, executive vice president of the giant union.

Vote Is 12-0

Chairman McClellan (D.-Ark.) said the committee voted 12-0 to press cases against the four officials, who refused to answer a number of questions in the Senate Investigations Subcommittee's hearings last month on alleged racketeering in labor unions and industry. They challenged the authority of the subcommittee, a unit of the government operations committee. McClellan heads both.

The contempt citations now go to the Senate, which will be asked to vote to refer them to the Justice Department for possible prosecution. Contempt of Congress is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 and as much as a year in prison.

Newspaper Sales Almost Million Over '55 Mark

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—Editor and Publisher says 57 million copies of United States newspapers were sold daily in 1956—almost a million more than the previous year.

The trade magazine yesterday disclosed statistics from its international year book which will be published early next month.

The dailies' circulation gain last year was 1.7 per cent over 1955.

Sunday circulation also set a record of 47 million, E & P said.

Other statistics:

Total circulation of 1,761 dailies—57,101,501; of the 314 morning papers, 22,491,500, a gain of 1.39 per cent; of the 1,454 evening papers, 34,610,010, a 1.9 per cent gain.

The 546 Sunday papers reached a circulation of 47,162,246, a boost of 1.54 per cent over 1955.

The average milline rate in morning papers increased 2.25 per cent; in evening papers, 4.48 per cent.

The Sunday milline rate, however, dropped by .35 per cent. A milline is a unit of space and circulation, equivalent to one agate line, a column wide, appearing in a million copies of a publication.

Jaycee Fiasco

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—All the principals were present for the charter presentation ceremony at the Junior Chamber of Commerce in nearby East Aurora. The only thing missing was the charter. "I thought you had it," said State President F. Joseph Leone last night to East Aurora President George J. Mullenhoff. "I thought you had it," replied Mullenhoff. The ceremony continued with a makeshift charter. Where was the real thing? Somewhere between Jaycee headquarters in Tulsa and East Aurora.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Lamb will force beef to share the spotlight in many supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores across the country this week.

Leg of lamb and lamb chops will be widely featured, reflecting a plentiful supply of grain-fed lambs. Farmers had 4,468,000 of the critters on feed January 1, the highest number since 1948 and 207,000 more than a year ago. Choice chops and roasts will be coming to market from these lambs before spring.

Beef Still Plentiful

Beef also is expected to be plentiful for some time, with the housewife having a choice of anything from chuck and stew to sirloin steaks at special prices. Both sirloin steaks and rib roast of beef are reported slightly cheaper in eastern areas this week, but generally higher in the midwest.

Chickens also are higher this week, in a range from 2 to 10 cents, but this is expected to be only temporary.

One large chain is featuring frankfurters this week to tie in with the fact, which may have escaped your attention that this is National Franks and Kraut Week. Sauerkraut, incidentally, is reported in good supply because of last fall's bumper cabbage crop.

Cabbage Good Buy

Cabbage is still an outstanding vegetable buy, in fact, in those areas where it's still available from nearby fields. The same thing goes for such root crops as carrots, beets, turnips and parsnips.

Storage potatoes from last fall's eastern crops also are an outstanding buy this week. Indications are now that last summer's sky-high prices for potatoes are not likely to be repeated. A run of bad weather in southern growing areas could change the picture, however.

New potatoes from Florida's winter crop already are coming to market, and are rated a good buy, along with Idaho fall potatoes. Other good buys this week are Iceberg lettuce, new cabbage from southern fields, spinach, collards, sweet potatoes, broccoli, pascal celery and peppers.

Yellow onions are in the good buy class, even though they've gotten a bit more expensive this week. Produce men say onion prices probably will not drop off sharply this year as they did in the spring of 1956.

Tomatoes Cheaper

Tomatoes are reported cheaper this week, but with a wide range in quality. Beans and cauliflower are only moderate in price.

Oranges and tangerines again head the list of good buys at fruit counters. Grapefruit prices are steady, but supply is a bit off from last week.

Apples and grapes are moderate in cost in most places, although condition is a big factor since the quality varies widely.

Protest Missile Base

Tokyo, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Socialist party today protested government plans for Japan to obtain guided missiles from the United States. The Socialists charged they would make Japan an American base. The objections came after the U. S. Defense Department announced that "certain unclassified equipment included guided missiles" would be supplied to Japan for military research and development. Tokyo newspapers said Japan has requested eight types of guided missiles.

Ulster County Athletic League Adopts 11-Man Football

WILLIAM SIGNS 1957 CONTRACT — Boston Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin and outfielder Ted Williams smile as Williams finished signing his 1957 contract in Boston Feb. 6. No terms were announced but Williams said: "It's very satisfactory to both parties." This will be Ted's 16th season with the Red Sox. (AP Wirephoto)

Five Teams Set To Change Over From Six-Man

Opening Contests Scheduled Sept. 28

The Ulster County Athletic League (UCAL) has formed a five-team 11-man football league which will begin operations this fall.

The league will embrace Onteora Central, Rondout Valley Central, Wallkill Central, New Paltz Central and Marlboro Central. The two other member schools, Saugerties High and Highland High, will remain part of the three-team West Shore Football League which also includes Liberty Central.

Coach Ed Witko, athletic director at Onteora Central, who is co-ordinating the program, has announced a single-round schedule which opens on Saturday, Sept. 28.

Opening pairings are:

New Paltz at Wallkill.

Rondout Valley at Marlboro.

There is a faint possibility that Marlboro may delay entry into the league, temporarily at least, according to Witko. He said that the school wasn't sure if it is quite ready to convert to the 11-man game. Although Marlboro is not definitely in the fold, it has been included in the schedule of games.

Two Are Too Strong

UCAL members decided that Saugerties and Highland should bypass the league, for the time being at least. It was felt that the two schools would be too strong for the new circuit on the basis of experience and past records.

New Paltz and Onteora are the only two schools in the new set-up with previous 11-man experience. The Indians completed their second full season last year, while the Huguenots have been playing regulation grid for several campaigns.

The other three teams are experienced in six and eight-man football. Rondout Valley has been a perennial power and the past two seasons went undefeated in an unofficial league that took in a trio of Orange county teams.

KBA Extends Deadline to February 23

Governor Clinton Market 1st Team Entry

Cliff-Bruce Davis First in Doubles

Governor Clinton Market, current leaders of the Ferraro Major League, has filed the No. 1 entry for the Kingston Bowling Association's annual championships.

Tournament manager, Mannie Colao, announced receipt of the entry blank and check.

The team personnel includes two top-ranking KBA officials—Whitey Crispell, president, and Randy Kelder, secretary. Other members are Larry Petersen, captain; George Robinson and Charlie Gildersleeve.

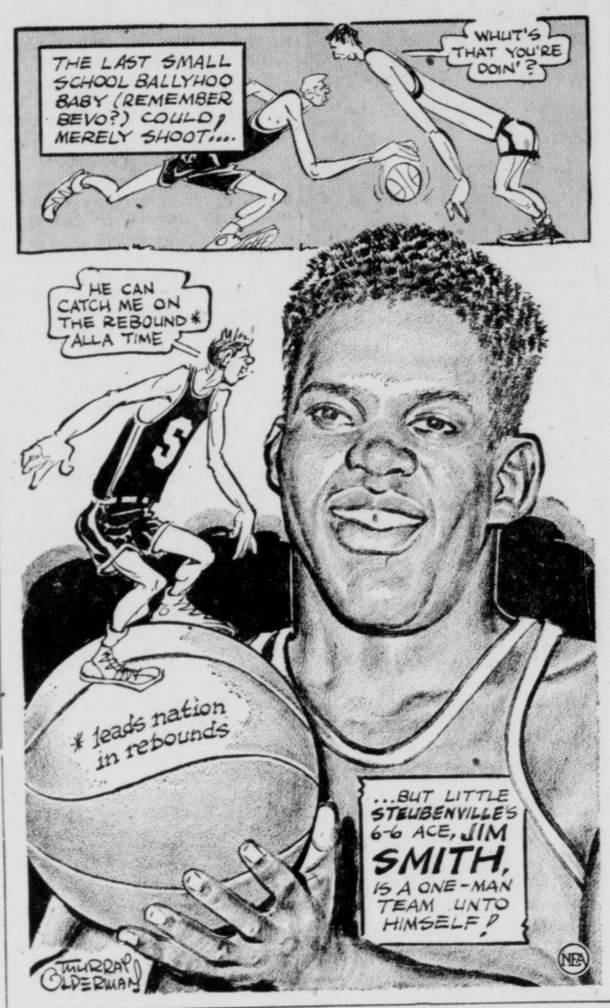

Father-Son First

The first doubles entry came from a father-son combination, Cliff Davis and Bruce Davis.

Manager Colao also announced an extension of entry deadline from Feb. 16 to Feb. 23. The extension has been granted because some of the larger leagues will be inactivated for about three weeks in the transfer of the old Bowlodrome leagues to the new Ferraro Bowlerama.

Secretary Kelder urged all league secretaries to file the official tournament averages as soon as possible.

NCAA Hopeful On TV Agreement

Chicago, Feb. 7 (AP) — The NCAA television committee today was "hopeful" of agreement on a definite plan for telecasting college football next fall.

In its first two days of meetings, the committee has discussed 10 different plans that fall into these broad categories:

1. A national "game-of-the-week" series.
2. A combination of national and regional games, along the line of the 1956 program.
3. A control plan in which the NCAA would set certain basic rules and the individual schools and conferences would operate on their own.

KHS at Ellenville Friday; Rondout Seeks 13th Victory

Kingston High launches a rugged week's schedule against three of the powers of the DUSO League Friday night, when it invades Ellenville Central's gym for a return battle with the Blue Devils.

Next week, the Maroons encounter Port Jervis and Newburgh Free Academy, current co-leaders of the DUSO with Poughkeepsie. The game with the Red Raiders is an away affair Monday, while the NFA clash is Friday at the field house.

Of immediate interest is the Ellenville assignment which promises to be a tough one. Kingston was soundly thumped by the Blue Devils, 52-41, early in the campaign and is aching to avenge the loss.

Tannenbaum Devil Ace

Revenge, if it does come, won't be achieved easily. Ellenville, although currently out of contention for the flag, is a tall and talented team, especially hard to beat on its own floor.

The Blue Devils of Coach Chuck Walsh possess the fourth best record in the DUSO—6-4. They are led by high-scoring Mike Tannenbaum, the DUSO's second top point-pourer who has scored 241 points for a 24.1 game average.

Tannenbaum was held to a seasonal low of 13 by the Maroons in the first meeting, but Jim Reed, a guard, picked up the slack with 18. Other stalwarts include Pete Anderson, Bob Gorman and Tom Brown.

Kingston's chances of springing an upset aren't good, particulary with center Tony Grimaldi on the shelf once again. Grimaldi wasn't missed in the Maroons' 75-22 romp over Fallsburgh Tuesday, but his absence Friday surely will hurt.

He's out for an indefinite period with a throat infection and quite possibly may be through for the remainder of the season.

Klonowski to Start

Coach Jack Gilligan started junior Norm Wells, who is the biggest player on the squad at 6-5, in place of Grimaldi, but substituted Joe Klonowski in the early stages. Klonowski, although lacking polish, performed well enough in his first big chance and scored 10 points. On the strength of that performance, he's earned a starting berth.

The rest of the starting lineup will include regulars Bob Smith and Larry Johnson, in fore court, and George Uhl and Bob Strong at guards. Smith and Uhl stood out in the Fallsburgh conquest, scoring 22 and 17, respectively.

The Maroons want the win to draw closer to the DUSO .500 mark. Righ now, they are 4-6 and Gilligan's primary aim is to break even on the season.

Elsewhere, the DUSO co-leaders face easy sledding in other Friday action. Newburgh plays at Fallsburgh, Poughkeepsie at Monticello and Ports host slipping Liberty.

8th Grader Stars In Women's Golf

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 7 (AP)—Sharon Fladoos is only 13 but she is making her mark in the Palm Beach women's golf championship.

The eighth grader from Dubuque, Iowa, surprised almost everyone when she made the championship flight with room to spare, carding an 82 over the 6,008-yard Palm Beach Golf Club course with its men's par of 35-35-70.

Eyebrows lifted even higher when she ousted 20-year-old Joanne Goodwin of Haverhill, Mass., 1956 Helen Lee Doherty titlist and runnerup this year, in the first round of match play yesterday, 1-up.

The youngster tries her luck in today's second round against seasoned campaigner Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, co-winner of last week's international four-ball at Hollywood.

Terrible Ted Likes Baseball

Boston, Feb. 7 (AP)—Ted Williams, temperamental throughout his brilliant career, is mellowing with age — or maybe it's just the off season.

The 38-year-old Boston slugger indicated yesterday that he has had a change of mind and might like to stay in baseball after his playing days.

Williams displayed a beaming grin after signing a one-year contract for about $100,000 which continues him as baseball's highest paid player.

But he turned off the grin and became serious when asked if he would like to remain in baseball when he has to quit as a player.

"Put it this way," he said, "I would stay in the game if I'm wanted. As you get older you start realizing there isn't a whole lot of things you know better than baseball."

Ted, who will be 39 in August, is looking forward only to the 1957 season—not beyond.

"But if I don't drive in a hundred runs, hit 25 or 30 homers and bat .330 or .340, I will be disappointed," he said. "If I can't I'll see the writing on the wall. But I'm sure I can do it."

Godwins Top Back's

Dick Terlingen meshed 27 points and three other players hit in double figures to pace Godwin's Upholsterers to a 76-61 victory over Back's Cedaraps in the YMCA "A" league.

Each team had a big quarter in the first half but the Upholsterers held a 41-34 edge at the intermission.

Terlingen swished 13 baskets and added a free throw. Jim Mackey fired 11 points and Al Long and Bill DuBois had 10 apiece.

Vince Hainer led the Cedaraps on 22 points. Jim Ferraro contributed 11.

Friday's Schedule

Boston vs New York at Philadelphia

St. Louis at Philadelphia.

The three top teams in the UCAL basketball race are matched against the lesser lights in Friday night's full program of games.

Undefeated Rondout Valley Central and second place Saugerties High will be out to gain wins No. 7, while third place Onteora Central seeks to keep pace and pick up victory No. 6. The slate calls for Marlboro Central (3-4) at Rondout Valley (6-0), Saugerties (6-1) at New Paltz (0-6) and Wallkill (1-6) at Onteora (5-2).

Rounding out this week's play is a Saturday night encounter at Onteora between the Indians and Highland. The game is a makeup affair from last Friday night which was called off because of the snowstorm.

Twelve Game Streak

The Rondout-Marlboro tussle rates top billing. The Kerhonkson club will lay its shiny 12-game winning streak on the line once again against a team which it beat easily, 69-44, earlier this season.

The battle shapes up as another individual duel between th two top centers in the league, Rondout's John Mustion and Marlboro's 1000-point pivot Richie Mandia. The last time they faced each other it was a near standoff with Mustion having slightly the better of it in points—20-19.

Marlboro, which stands fourth in the UCAL, is capable of pulling a shocker. Along with Mandia, it boasts high-scoring Daryl Eckert and reliable guards Doug Swartz and Dom Favata. The club also has been bolstered by the return of Bob Paltridge, sharpshooting forward, who is back in the good graces of Coach Joe Cash.

Saugerties will use New Paltz as a sort of warmup for next Monday's crucial fray against Rondout. The Huguenots, although giving it all they have, are still seeking that first win, but will have to wait until some other game for the Sawyers are on the march.

Onteora will be playing its first game without regular center Art Gribbins when it faces Wallkill. Gribbins will be watching the game from the sidelines, having been ruled ineligible for five weeks because of scholastic reasons.

Nevertheless, the Indians should win bigger than the 57-51 score in the first meeting. Wallkill's forte is height, but it lacks good all-around talent.

Highland, meanwhile, will be busy opposing St. Patrick's at Newburgh. The Irish hold a 64-52 decision over the Highlanders in their first non-league gettogether. Highland's UCAL record is 2-4 and overall mark, 4-7.

Royals, Knicks Celts Win in NBA

(By the Associated Press)

Less than a week ago, the Rochester Royals were in the throes of an 11-game losing streak and on the brink of falling into the Western Division cellar of the National Basketball Assn.

Today the Royals are one game out of second place and just two games away from the top after winning four of their last five games in a six-day span. They squeezed past runner-up St. Louis 103-100 last night.

The Boston Celts, the Eastern Division front-runners, posted their 12th victory in the last 13 starts, overwhelming Fort Wayn's western section pace-setters 108-93.

The New York Knicks—with Ken Sears and Carl Braun each getting 25—bowled over the Syracuse Nats 119-110 to solidify their hold on third place in the Eastern Division and climb within one game of runner-up Philadelphia. The Warriors bowed to Minneapolis 101-100 as the Lakers snapped an eight-game losing streak.

More Pros Head Toward Tucson

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 7 (AP)—The $15,000 Tucson Open golf tournament opened today on the straight and easy El Rio Country Club course.

The sponsors' ire was softened somewhat when a few more top golfers showed up yesterday, but nine of last year's top money winners are still missing.

After the Professional Golfers Assn. was accused of a "breach of faith" for not providing top players, Gene Littler flew in from San Diego, Doug Ford returned from his sick son's bedside in New York and Fred Hawkins came from El Paso, Tex.

The 6,434-yard El Rio layout has never been a mystery to the touring pros. Recent rains have softened the usually hard fairways and made it even more to their liking.

Eagles' Burk, Bell Disagree On Player Group

Waco, Tex., Feb. 6 (AP)—Adrian Burk of the Philadelphia Eagles, today took exception to remarks by the National Football League that the National Football League Players Association is not representative of the players.

Burk, in a telegram sent to Bert Bell, president of the National Football League, also said he did not think what he called "mature wisdom and sound judgment" were exhibited in refusing recognition of the players association and those proposals submitted by the players.

Met in New York

Representatives of the players in the league met in New York last Dec. 28-29 and voted to form the association, Burk said. They also asked that the league recognize the association, approve an injury clause in contracts, a minimum salary for the league and grant reasonable compensation during the training camp period.

The proposals were given to Bell for presentation to the league's annual meeting.

The league's answer, in effect, was that the association did not represent the players and that any player with a cause for complaint should take it to the league office.

Cadillacs Boost Lead to 5 Games

AJ's Cadillacs leads the County Major Shuffleboard League by five full games on the strength of a 3-1 win over Andy's Atoms. The pace-setters' record is 23-9 compared to runnerup Andy's mark of 18-14.

A. J. Oster-Bud Leininger won twice and George Harmon-Carl Schuster once to pace the Cadillacs. Andy's lone win was gained by the Andy Plotzyk-Art Brown duo.

League Standings

'Rookie' Prusack-Ed McDevitt team captured a pair of wins, while Pete Fischer Sr.-Moe Playford won the other game. Bud Rappleyea-Don Gallagher insured third place for the Cleaners by taking one game.

Rangers Stop Black Hawks

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Rangers, striving for a fourth-place finish in the National Hockey League and the playoff berth that goes with it, get a chance to move into that position tonight.

The New Yokers, fresh off a 3-2 victory over Boston last night, visit last-place Chicago tonight. A triumph over the Black Hawks would put the Rangers in fourth place a point ahead of Toronto, which is idle.

New York found Chicago an easy touch this season, beating the Hawks seven times, playing two ties and losing just once in 10 games.

The Rangers gained ground on the Maple Leafs last night as Toronto and runner-up Montreal tied 1-1. The Canadiens moved to within two points of first place Detroit, which is host to Boston tonight.

Andy Bathgate's first period goal, his 20th of the season, ignited the Rangers. Cal Gardner evened it for Boston late in the stanza, but Jack Evans put New York in front 2-1 in the second period.

Dean Prentice converted Bathgate's rebound midway in the third period for a 3-1 lead.

Hialeah Winner

Miami, Feb. 6 (AP) — Hubcap rolled to a victory today in the Hialeah's $20,075 Florida Breeders Stakes, an event for "babies" still learning to behave themselves on a racetrack.

Little League Re-Elects Harold Anderson to Head Association

Frank Gifford's movie aspirations are flickering. Those big contract promises turned out to be strictly cinethetic once they got him to Hollywood—only 50 per cent of the agreed salary figure and a reneg on letting him play more football . . . so he's trying another studio.

Capital gain: Cholly Dressen had no choice but to stay in Washington . . . after he made a personal pitch to Spike Briggs for the Detroit job . . . and was flatly turned down . . .

The big spiel on the winter dinner circuit is Joe Garagiola, who's found a mike easier on the grip than a bat. . . . Joe was telling boyhood buddy Yogi Berra about Dublin electing its first Jewish mayor. . . . "Yeah," nodded Berra, "only in America can a thing like this happen." . . . Garagiola's wife plays the organ at St. Louis' Busch Stadium . . . he met her when she was playing the organ—at a roller skating rink. . . .

Berra, a regular on the rubber chicken circuit, doesn't table-hop . . . he squats from friend to friend, like a good catcher. . . .

The Baltimore Colts were hesitant about drafting Don Shinnick of UCLA because they'd heard about his religious activities on campus and figured it might keep him from playing football on Sunday, like another Uclan All-America, Bob Davenport . . . till they contacted the 230-pound linebacker, who reasoned, "After all, a farmer milks his cows on Sunday." . . .

Bill Russell will join Don Barksdale on his radio show in Oakland after the Boston Celtics stow away their basketball gear. . . . "Can't wait to pack my bags," says Russell, "this eastern weather is killing me." . . .

The Lakers' Johnny Kundla wants to see Russell racked up good a couple of times under the boards before pasing final judgment on him . . . although admitting "He's helped Boston five points a game." . . . and Kundla pooh-poohs any comparison of the runaway Celts with his Mikan era gang: "Wait'll they win something. Sure, they're a great shooting team, and exciting to watch. But they're weak defensively. Even now we murder them on the boards. We just would put Martin on Cousy, and Mikan and Pollard would have done the rest." . . .

Between you'n'me, the Southwest Conference would like to pin down the details on one grid star . . . married, with child, living in a lush off-campus apartment, driving a new car . . . on board, tuition, books and $60 a month . . . and his dad only making $400 a month. . . .

Pony League Heading for 1957 Comeback

Buffalo, Feb. 7 (AP)—Early in the baseball season this year after the usual couple of weeks of rainy and cold weather, rumors will probably begin to circulate that the Class D Pony Baseball League will fold before the end of summer. Don't bet on it.

Despite similar rumors for the past several seasons and despite some tough breaks, the league will be operating again this year with eight clubs and perhaps a new name.

One of the oldest and toughest Class D circuits, the 18-year-old Pony League has remarkable recuperative powers.

Last year it lost in mid-season Hamilton and Bradford, but limped through the schedule with the six remaining clubs. After its last game, Jamestown announced that it was folding.

Batavia Returns

But revitalized Bradford and Jamestown clubs are back in the league this year, Batavia is returning to the circuit after an absence of several years.

President Vince Mc Namara, as he has consistently in the past predicts that the league will continue to flourish no matter what obstacles it may have to overcome in any particular season.

With the Hamilton, Ont., club out of the league for good apparently, the league may adopt a new name at a board of directors meeting here Sunday.

The directors will consider a suggestion to change the name from the Pennsylvania-Ontario-New York (Pony) League to the New York-Penn (NYP) League.

$100,000 Bonus Beauty Optioned

Boston, Feb. 6 (AP)—Frank Baumann, a young southpaw signed by the Boston Red Sox for a $100,000 bonus in 1952, today was optioned on 24-hour recall basis to Oklahoma City in the Texas League.

Baumann, whose signed contract was received by the Red Sox Tuesday, nursed a sore arm at his home most of last season. He appeared in seven games for Boston and then one for Albany in the Eastern League before quitting for the year.

National League Autonomy Goes Before Group

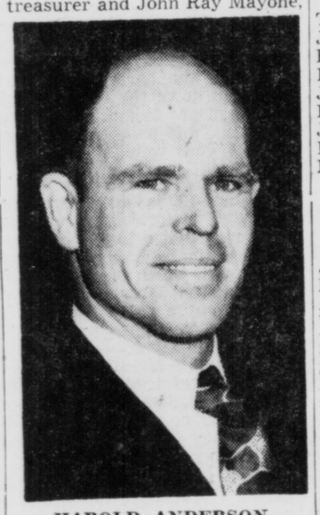

Thomas and Radel Are Vice-Presidents

Kingston Little League Association has re-elected Harold Anderson president and proposed virtual autonomy for the National League.

For several years, the association has operated both the American and National leagues.

Raymond Radel of the National and Willard Thomas of the American League were named vice-presidents at the annual election meeting.

Warren Smith was re-elected treasurer and John Ray Mayone, secretary. A group of five permanent directors will be named later.

HAROLD ANDERSON

Anderson was elected to his first term as president last year, after serving as director of the American League. In his quiet manner, he has been one of the top executives in local Little League history.

Under Consideration

The move to separate the two leagues has been under discussion for some time. It must be ratified, however, by the Association at a meeting to be called in the near future by president Anderson.

Under the new table of organization, Radel and Thomas, as vice-presidents, would be responsible for the operation of their respective leagues. A secondary group of line officers would be elected by each league. The LLA would serve as the coordinating body.

For the purposes of financing, the Little League Association would have control over both leagues. This would make for a unified membership drive and there still remain some unresolved items.

Balanced Budget

Warren Smith submitted a proposed budget for 1957 that would write off current obligations and leave a substantial balance for the LLA.

Radel has assured the association he will have a strong organization in the National league. Efforts will be made to recruit the assistance of many parents and workers who up to now have not been identified with the league.

Yellow Jackets Beat Accord To Tie for 2nd in 'B' League

Yellow Jackets rallied in the last four minutes of play to defeat Accord, 70-67, and tie the losers for second place in the first half of the YMCA "B" League.

Bucky Miller and Johnny Burris did heavy duty for the Jackets, with 26 and 21 points, respectively. Dolly Medley contributed 12 points.

Army Quintet Tops Albright

West Point, Feb. 6—Army's basketball team rolled up its highest score of the season today in defeating Albright, 90-74, for its fourth victory in 12 starts.

After the score was tied three times in the early going, Army grabbed the lead on a 3-pointer by Johnny George, a surprise starter in the Cadet lineup, and never trailed after that.

The Army connected with 44 per cent of their shots.

Harness Track Due In Sullivan County?

New York, Feb. 7 (AP) — George P. Monaghan, state harness race commissioner, said today he had received an application for permission to build a pari-mutuel trotting track from the Sullivan County Harness Racing Assn.

Monaghan said he was not at liberty to identify the members of the association but said he would hold an open hearing on the application sometime in March.

New York state law permits eight harness tracks. Only seven are operating.

Giardello Lucky To Beat Sandy

Chicago, Feb. 7 (AP) — Joey Giardello, the overwhelming favorite, was lucky to get a split 10 round decision over Randy Sandy in a televised bout at Chicago Stadium last night.

He didn't look anything like the No. 2 ranking middleweight that he is. A ferocious last two rounds saved the victory for him.

Under the five-point system of scoring, Referee Walt Brightmore voted for Giardello 48-44 and Judge Frank Mcadams favored him 47-45. Judge Frank Clark called it for Sandy, 47-46.

"I just didn't have in my mind that this would be a tough fight," Joey said afterwards. "I read in the papers that Sandy wasn't much—and I read where I was a 4-1, 5-1 favorite. I just got overconfident."

Sandy, a rangy, mustachioed Negro from New York, kept pressuring Giardello in Hurrican Jackson fashion and took little notice of Joey's best punches.

Patty Gains in French Tennis

Paris, Feb. 6 (AP)—Top seeded Budge Patty of Los Angeles, easily defeated Jorgen Ulrich of Denmark, today in the first round of the French international indoor championships.

The scores were 6-2, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

New Hope Seen For Sandy Saddler

Sandy Saddler, who recently retired as the world featherweight boxing champion because of impaired eyesight, said yesterday he might be able to resume his fighting career.

Saddler, whose right eye was damaged in an automobile accident last July, is being treated at the Flower Fifth Avenue Hospital by Dr. Arthur Alexander Knapp.

Dr. Knapp's examination revealed that the retina of Saddler's right eye was detached. He is treating Saddler by dehydration and diet. The treatment has been successful in about a dozen cases.

Saddler should be able to leave the hospital within two weeks if the treatment succeeds. The fighter then would have to go through a period of recuperation before he could resume boxing.

Podres Admits Back Trouble Might Hamper Big Comeback

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—Johnny Podres still has trouble with his back. But before Brooklyn's opponents perk up, they might recall the sweet-pitching lefty also had back trouble in 1955. All he did that year was win the Dodgers' first world baseball championship.

A phone call to Witherbee, N. Y., brought the information that Podres was out ice fishing on Lake Champlain.

"Got a load of what we call Lake Champlain ice fish," he said later. "They run about seven or eight inches apiece."

It wasn't easy to switch the conversation to baseball and a bad back.

Still Troubles Him

"It's been pretty good," said John. "But I still have a little trouble with it. Like when I go fishing and sit down quite a while. After I stand up, it feels a little better.

"They told me in the Navy I might have to have an operation. I suppose I will eventually but there's no telling when. It might be two years and it might not be for five or ten."

How did Podres feel about the statements by Manager Walter Alston, who said he might use John in relief if his back bothered him like it did at Montreal?

"Whatever Walter says goes," Podres said. "I just hope it will be all right.

"I'm going south about Feb. 20 and I'm not going to bear down too much for a month or so. I don't want to overdo it at first. Oh, I'll pitch some but not too hard.

"By the time we start to work our way north I ought to know what I can do."

Nixed Winter Ball

The Dodgers suggested Podres pitch some winter ball after his discharge from the Navy, Oct. 26. But he didn't want to take a chance on aggravating the back condition. He said he hasn't tried to throw a ball yet.

Podres estimated he pitched about 85 innings last year in the Navy.

"When I wanted to go the distance I usually did," he said. "Usually I'd pitch about five or six innings. The back did give me some trouble."

Podres suffers from spondylitis, a disintegration of the small bones that link the spinal column with the body. He's had it most of his life. Before his discharge from the Navy he had been in a hospital for five weeks.

CAGE QUIZ

By NEIL JOHNSTON
Written for NEA Service

Question: In a game we played this year, the clock showed time had run out. But the buzzer did not sound for several seconds. A basket was scored during this time and it gave one team a one-point winning margin. What should have been done about this?—Marvin Weinrig.

Answer: The official should have checked with the timer. If the clock was correct, then the buzzer should be ignored and all points scored after time ran out nullified.

* * *

Q. In a college game, a double foul was called. Each player should have been given one shot. But the referee gave one player a one-and-one and both shots went in. At half-time, a protest was made and the referee adjusted the score when he realized his mistake. Was this legal?—Arthur Quigg.

A. No. Unless the error is discovered before play resumes following foul shots, the officials cannot legally change the score. The extra point must count.

OUT OF DOORS with

Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

We gun nuts are all slightly pixillated, and while some of us may be more pixillated than others, it's a mighty healthy form of nuttiness. It may keep a man broke, but it also keeps him from wasting time in bars or in front of television sets. And, out of being a gun crank, can occasionally come vast personal satisfactions.

There's a young chap of my acquaintance, Jack Behn, who has gone plumb daffy about the .45-70, the cartridge and the weapons for it. Otherwise, he's the most normal person, a husband and father, moderately successful in business, a respected member of the community.

Costly Hobby

I don't know that his wife and youngsters have gone short of movies or breakfast food because of his absorption in the old cartridge, but there certainly is the price of a mink coat or three tied up in his collection of rifles.

At this point he has every babsic type of weapon ever chambered for the .45-70, racks of guns that cover the walls of what in anybody else's home would be the party room, that big room down the cellar you've always meant to finish. Jack finished his, and paneled it just so the old guns would look right.

Historic Cartridge

The .45-70 is an interesting cartridge, historically, when you come right down to it. The trapdoor Springfield carbines and rifles with which the soldiery of the post Civil War period fought Indians on the plains were nearly all .45-70's. Weapons shooting the straight-sided black powder load, with its big slug of 405 or 500 grains of lead, came pretty near being the guns that won the West, no matter what the claims may be for other models and calibers.

Small wonder, therefore, that having absorbed all the lore surrounding the old cartridge—which is still alive, still on the loading lists—Jack sat himself down and wrote a book which Stackpole saw fit to publish.

So perhaps Jack, like others of us gun nuts, is pixillated—but it strikes me as being a profitable form of insanity, even if Jack does go deer hunting with an ancient Colt Lightning model rifle, barreled with a tube from a Gatling gun that was chambered for the .45-70.

Hudson Elks Honor Yale Crew

The United States Olympic Gold Medal winning Yale University crew will be honored by the Hudson Lodge of Elks, No. 787, at a dinner on Feb. 16.

Special honors will go to Caldwell B. Esselstyn Jr., a resident of Claverack, Columbia county, the number seven man in the crew.

Master of ceremonies for the night will be Russ Hodges, the voice of the New York Giants of the National League.

Yale graduates in the area are invited to join the Hudson Elks in paying tribute to the "greatest crew of them all."

Reservations can be made by calling Hudson 8-1413.

Bouquets for garnishing may be made from small sprigs of parsley and strips of canned pimiento for binding stems.

U. S. Bobsledders In Accident

St. Moritz, Switzerland. Feb. 6 (AP)—An American bobsled team plowed through a snow wall and skidded crazily to a halt when its steering gear failed on a trial run today.

The driver, Dick Severino of Saratoga Springs, N. Y. and his three companions bounced off the sled and were drenched with snow and water, but unhurt.

The bullet-nosed sled also was undamaged, although it wound up in a pile of snow.

Benham Clips Bob-Sled Mark

Lake Placid, Feb. 6 (AP) — Stanley Benham of Lake Placid broke his own record today when he piloted a four-man sled down the one-mile Mount Van Hoevenburg run in 1:10.22.

In 1954, Benham set a one-heat record of 1:10.25 for the course. Crew members today were Pat Martin of Massena, Chuck Pandolph of Saranac Lake and John Helmer of Lake Placid.

Columbia's Chet Forte Passes Wilt Chamberlain in Scoring

(By The Associated Press)

Little men, take heart!

You, too, can be an athletic whiz like Chet Forte of Columbia, the nation's leading college basketball scorer as of today.

All you need is a repertoire that includes an unerring shot from anywhere on the court, a wrong-foot jump shot, and a variety of driving lay-ups. That, plus a total disregard of towering opponents.

Forte raised the spirits of the elevator-shoe set by plumping home 36 points as his Lions lost to Yale 103-87 last night.

Averages 30 Points

The chore gave the 5-foot-9 pre-med senior a total of 451 points in 15 games for an average of 30.67, compared to Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain's 28.78 average for 14 games. Chamberlain, at 7 feet, is the current "good big man" vs. Forte, the "good little man" in basketball's perennial argument.

Despite Forte, Yale used 31-point shooting by Larry Downs and a 30-point contribution from John Lee to squelch the Lions and become runner-up to Princeton in the Ivy League race at 5-1 while Columbia (4-2) dropped to third.

Elsewhere, the night was made notable by the second straight defeat of Louisville, rated sixth nationally in the Associated Press weekly poll. Little Morehead, the nation's leading rebounders, applied the boot to the Cardinals 85-74. And it was rebounding, particularly that of the Eagle's Steve Hamilton, that undid Louisville. Hamilton grabbed 27 of Morehead's 58 rebounds and topped the scoring with 35 points. Charlie Tyra scored 21 points as Louisville slipped to a 14-4 season record.

Canisius Upset

Another of the nation's elite, 14th-ranked Canisius came a cropper when Marquette tumbled the Griffins 81-80. Canisius, down 81-72 with little more than a minutes remaining, hit for eight straight points before time ran out. Warrior soph Mike Moran helped apply the crusher with 34 points.

Conference battling was on the light side with Penn beating Brown 67-66 in a lower-echelon Ivy League encounter. Princeton's Ivy rulers suffered first-period shakes but calmed to overtake Rutgers 69-53 in a non-League game for the Tigers' sixth straight victory.

Dayton went to a double-overtime before quelling Miami of Ohio 68-67 and Temple foiled a Villanova comeback to beat the Wilcats 81-72.

Racial Agitation Is Warden's Guess For Prison Revolt

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—Warden Marcell Graham of the riot-torn Utah State Prison said today racial agitation is his only guess as to the cause of the uprising.

Graham, in Washington to talk with FBI officials in the course of a tour of prisons, was reached by a reporter as he prepared to catch a plane and speed back to the prison.

Asked if he knew what set off the riot, Graham said he did not know in any detail and doubted anyone else did at the moment. But he added:

Not Actual Issue

"There has been a little talk about the colored boys' thinking they should have the privilege of living anywhere in the building, and that's all I can say offhand.

"But that has never come to an actual issue."

Graham said Negroes and whites are segregated as to eating and sleeping, but not otherwise.

They do the same work, Graham said, take their recreation together, and "Negroes have some of the better inmate jobs."

"There is no discrimination," Graham said.

He mentioned a fight between two inmates one day last week and said there was "talk that it was over the racial thing."

Graham said there had been "no pressure" from outside the prison over the separation of races for eating and sleeping—"only some talk we've heard about among the men."

10-TO-1 SHOT—At 10 to 1 odds, William Neggley, 43, of San Antonio, Texas, limbers up bow with which he hopes to kill an elephant and collect $10,000. He leaves Feb. 9 for Belgian Congo to back up his $1,000 boast. (AP Wirephoto)

Trabert, Hartwig Win in Australia

Sydney, Australia, Feb. 6 (AP)—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Rex Hartwig of Australia triumphed in matches for first round losers in the professional tennis tournament at White City tonight. Some 2,000 fans watched.

Trabert beat Dinny Pails of Australia 6-1, 6-4, in 40 minutes and Hartwig trimmed Ken McGregor of Australia, 3-6, 6-4, 8-6.

Bucs Sign Collegian

Pittsburgh, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today the signing of 21-year-old Harold (Buddy) Pritchard, a shortstop on the University of Southern California baseball team, to a "sizable" bonus contract. The amount of the bonus was not made public. "We have been following this boy closely for four years," a Pirate spokesman said. "Eleven other major league clubs were after him."

Rookie School

Clearwater, Fla., Feb. 7 (AP)—The baseball season gets underway here today when the Philadelphia Phillies open their rookie school under the direction of Manager Mayo Smith.

Mealtime Shifts

Tulsa, Okla. (AP)—A police dog here gave birth to 10 puppies—five male and five females—which created a feeding problem. At feeding time, the mother dog nudges the female close to her while fending off the boy dogs. When she is sure the girls have had enough she pushes them aside and lets in the boys.

Not as Pretty Does

Canton, Ohio (AP) — Nancy Riegel, 19-year-old junior at Ohio University in Athens, was selected as Miss Canton Sesquicentennial to reign over this city's sesquicentennial celebration. To earn money for her college education, she works in the summer packing wieners.

Young Hunter

Prescott, Ark. (AP)—Bill Justiss almost got a point for each year of his age on a hunting trip. A buck bagged by Justiss had 9 points. Justiss is 10 years old.

New Bills Introduced In State Legislature

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—It's worth $500,000 to marshal a few facts about drinking by young people, a Staten Island assemblyman says.

Lucio F. Russo, who advocates raising the "drinking age" in New York state from 18 to 21, proposed investing the money in a joint legislative committee study.

The minimum age is 21 in New Jersey. Authorities say a number of accidents have been caused by Jersey teen-agers coming to New York to buy liquor.

Would Hold Hearings

Gov. Harriman's committee to study the problem opposed raising the age, but reported there was little exact data on the subject.

Russo suggested gathering the data through public and private hearings, especially in areas bordering on five nearby states where the minimum age is 21.

A bill submitted by Republican Assemblyman Willard C. Drumm of Columbia county would let counties decide for themselves whether to adopt the controversial Youth Court Act, which provides for special court treatment of young offenders 16 through 20.

Legislation postponing the effective date of the law 14 months —to April 1, 1958—was approved last week.

Drumm said the county-option proposal was his own idea and he did not know how much support it would receive.

Some upstate counties fought the act on the ground that administrative costs would be excessive. Newspapers objected to the secrecy provisions.

Measures on Courts

Two measures were introduced to implement recommendations of the temporary commission on the courts for relieving court congestion. They were offered by a member, Republican Sen. John H. Hughes of Syracuse.

One would authorize 25 additional Supreme Court justices, four of them upstate. The other would create a system of 13 "attorney-masters" to relieve judges of some work.

Assemblyman Robert Walmsley, Rockland county Republican, renewed his campaign for a $2,000-a-year pay boost for Supreme Court justices.

Harriman vetoed Walmsley's identical bill last year, contending that it had been submitted after the budget had been prepared.

Mother Had Not Heard From TV Beauty Since 1954

Sydney, Australia, Feb. 7 (AP)—The mother of a blonde actress who died in New York yesterday said today she had not received a letter from her daughter for three years.

The daughter, movie and television beauty Doreen Woodbury, 30, died in the arms of an actress friend, Elizabeth Rose. Miss Rose said there was a man in Miss Woodbury's life and a broken romance might be involved in her death.

Police said Miss Woodbury left a note directing the disposal of her personal effects and that a bottle, which presumably had contained sleeping pills, was found empty.

The mother, Mrs. Olive Janett, 67, of suburban Yagoona, told a reporter her daughter had not written her for three years.

"I wrote constantly but my letters were returned unanswered," Mrs. Janett said.

Miss Woodbury went to the United States five years ago. She had been a well known model in Sydney.

If you're wondering what to do with leftover rice, fold it into vanilla pudding before the dessert sets.

Dreary Weather Over East Areas

(By The Associated Press)

Dreary mid-winter weather—cloudy skies, fog and drizzle—continued today in wide areas in the eastern half of the nation.

Generally fair weather was reported in most of the western areas although light snow fell from northern Idaho eastward across Montana into western North Dakota. There also was some drizzle and rain in western Washington.

During the night fog blanketed much of the area from northern Texas to northern Illinois and eastward through Tennessee and the Ohio valley to the Atlantic coast. Drizzle and rain sprinkled many sections. Heaviest amounts were reported in eastern Tennessee and western North Carolina.

No severe cold was reported and there was warming from the northern Great Lakes region to parts of northern New England. Temperatures were mostly in the 30s, some 10 to 15 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier.

It was mild in the southwest with 70 degree marks in southern Florida and readings in the 60s elsewhere along the Gulf coast region.

Still Without Chief

Port au Prince, Haiti, Feb. 7 (AP) — This Caribbean republic still was without a government chief today but life went on much as usual. Troops scattered a crowd of several thousand demonstrators in front of the legislature building. Otherwise the capital was nearly normal. Most stores were open again after a two-day general strike which forced provisional President Joseph Nemours Pierre-Louis out of the office he took over when an earlier strike toppled Gen. Paul Magloire last December.

Mine Survivors To Relate Story

Bishop, Va., Feb. 7 (AP)—Coal miners, survivors of a gas explosion which killed 37 of their fellow workers Monday, tell of death in the dusty galleries at a hearing here today.

Julius Olzer, chief of the West Virginia Mine Bureau, will hold the hearing behind closed doors. He has completed his investigation in the winding corridors of the Pocahontas Fuel Co.'s Bishop Mine. Two newsmen will sit in on the hearing.

Olzer spent several hours deep in the sprawling mine again yesterday, but had no comment on the additional examination. There still was no official explanation as to what touched off the explosion.

Funeral for 16 of the victims were scheduled for today. One more is set for tomorrow, one Sunday and arrangements for seven others are not complete.

Twelve were buried in separate funerals yesterday.

Reds Concerned Over Morale of Russian Fighters

The Kremlin appears to be seriously concerned at the state of morale in the Soviet Army.

A campaign has been under way for several weeks to intensify Communist political work in the armed forces.

This is part of a general drive against ferment and discontent that developed out of last year's "de-Stalinization" campaign, the events in Poland and Hungary, and the general atmosphere of the post-Stalin era.

The steam being put behind the effort in the armed forces seems to indicate that the Soviet leadership considers it a weak spot on the psychological front.

"Ideological work in the ranks must become militantly offensive," declared Lt. Gen. F. A. Dudovsky, director of the political bureau of the Moscow military district, at a conference in Moscow last month.

"We must raise the vigilance of our fighters and raise their feeling of self-sacrifice and love for their motherland and hatred for its enemies."

Queen's Horse Destroyed

London, Feb. 7 (AP) — Queen Elizabeth's favorite parade horse, Winston, is dead. The 17-year-old golden chestnut had to be destroyed after he slipped and fell when being exercised this morning. He was known as the horse with the perfect manners—and a complete indifference to noise, traffic and crowds. He was ridden by King George VI at London's trooping of the color ceremony in 1947 and the late monarch liked the horse so much that he recommended him to his daughter when she was Princess Elizabeth.

Ike Critic Leaves For Hawaii, Home

Tokyo, Feb. 7 (AP)—Charles Edmundson, ousted from the U. S. Information Service in Korea for attacking President Eisenhower's foreign policy, left with his family by plane tonight for Honolulu and the United States.

Edmundson, his wife and 5-year-old son are due in Seattle over the weekend. They will board a train there for Washington, where he will be severed formally from government service.

Asked about reports that Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) might call him to testify before a congressional committee, Edmundson said he would be glad to appear but so far has not been approached.

Lilli Granted Divorce

Hollywood, Feb. 7 (AP) — The Mexican divorce decree granted to actress Lilli Palmer from Rex Harrison yesterday in Juarez left the British actor free to marry Kay Kendall of London, who is in Hollywood making her first American film. But Miss Kendall, who has been seen in Harrison's company often, said through a studio spokesman that she has "no immediate plans" to marry him. Harrison is on a month's leave from the Broadway hit "My Fair Lady," and he took it at the time "Les Girls" wen into production at MGM. Miss Kendall is appearing in that picture, which also stars Mitzi Gaynor.

Make Provision

When inserting a wooden dowel into a hole, much of the glue will be squeezed out unless you make some provision for preventing it. You can do this by filing a few ridges into the dowel ahead of time. Also, it's a good idea to make the hole a tiny bit longer than the dowel. In both these cases, you are providing a place for the excess glue.
